CHAPTER XLIX.

Provisions Applicable to Corporations Generally.

(4250) § 1. All Charters Subject to Amendment or Repeal.—It shall be deemed a part of the charter of every corporation created under the provisions of any general law, and of every charter granted, renewed or amended by Act or Joint Resolution of the General Assembly (unless such Act or Joint Resolution shall, in express terms, declare the contrary), that such charter, and every amendment and renewal thereof, shall always remain subject to amendment, alteration or repeal by the General Assembly.

Civ. '12, § 2783; Civ. '02, § 1842; R. S. 1499; 1886, XIX, 546.

Railroad Co. v. Gibbs, 24 S. C. 60; Railroad Co. v. Gibbs, 27 S. C. 385, 4 S. E. 49; Boyd v. Winnsboro Granite Co., 66 S. C. 433, 437, 45 S. E. 10.

The Northeastern Railroad Company was incorporated for fifty years, at which time this section was in existence. In 1855 the legislature passed an amendment to charter of a company, providing for exemption from taxation during continuance of the charter, which act did not except amendment from provisions of this section. In 1868. Constitution was adopted, which required that property of corporations then existing or thereafter created, shall be subject to taxation, and subsequent legislation provided for taxation of property of railroad companies, and under it property of Northeastern Railroad Company was taxed. Held, that the power reserved to State by this section authorized any change in contract created by charter between corporators and State. Tomlinson v. Jessup, 82 U. S. 434, 21 L. Ed. 204.

It seems charter granted before passage of this act is not amended by legislation authorizing extension of certain bonds made by a company (which State had guaranteed), by issue of new bonds of like character, and continuation of a mortgage for securing the payment of said bonds. Tomlinson v. Branch, 82 U. S. 460, 469, 21 L. Ed. 189.

(4251) § 2. which may be at any time hereafter created under or by virtue of any Act of Assembly, general or special, to wit:

Civ. '02, § 1843; R. S. 1500; 1905, XXIV, 842.

(A) LIABILITY OF STOCKHOLDERS.—The stockholders of all insolvent corporations other than banks and banking institutions, whether heretofore or hereafter incorporated under the Acts of the General Assembly of this State, either general or special, shall be individually liable to the creditors thereof only to the extent of the amount remaining due to the corporation upon the stock owned by them: And provided, further, That persons holding stock in such companies as trustee or executor, administrator, or by way of collateral security, shall not be personally subject to the liabilities of stockholders under the foregoing provisions, but the persons pledging such stock shall be liable to the creditors, and the estates and funds in the hands of such executors or administrators shall be liable in their hands in like manner and to the same extent as the deceased testator or intestate, or the ward or person interested in said trust estate would have been if they had, respectively, been living and competent to act and hold the stock in their own names.

1905, XXIV, 842.

(B) FRAUDULENT MISREPRESENTATIONS.—Unless some other provision for the prevention and punishment of fraudulent representations as to the capital, property and resources of such corporations shall have been inserted therein, in which case the provisions in reference thereto shall be only such as is specified in such charter, that any director or other officer or stockholder of the said corporation who shall knowingly and wilfully make or cause to be made any fraudulent misrepresentation or misrepresentations as to either the capital, property or resources of the said corporation, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and, upon conviction thereof, shall be punished by a fine of not more than two thousand dollars ($2,000), or imprisonment for not longer than two years, or both, at the discretion of the Court.

1905, XXIV, 842.

(C) REAL ESTATE — OTHER GENERAL POWERS.—Such corporations shall have power to purchase and hold such real estate as may be required for their purposes, or such as they may be obliged or may deem for their interest to take in the settlement of any debts due them, and they may dispose of the same; to sue and be sued in all Courts; to have and to use a common seal; to elect, in such manner as they may determine to be proper, all necessary officers, and fix their duties; to make by-laws and regulations consistent with the Constitution and laws of this State for their own government and the due and orderly conduct of their affairs, and the management of their property.

1905, XXIV, 842.

(D) REGULATIONS AS TO STOCK.—The shares in the capital stock of such corporations shall be deemed personal estate, except in the case of manufacturing companies, the stock in which shall be deemed realty, as stated in Section 23, and the mode of issuing the evidence of stock, and the manner, terms and conditions of assigning and transferring shares, shall be prescribed by the by-laws of each corporation.

1905, XXIV, 842.

(E) NOT TO BE USED IN BANKING.—No part of the capital stock or any of the funds of such corporation shall, at any time during the continuance of their charter, be used or employed, directly or indirectly, in banking operations, or for any purpose whatsoever inconsistent with the provisions of their respective charters.

INCREASE OF CAPITAL STOCKS.—The capital stock of any such corporations as aforesaid may be increased as follows: Whenever by resolution of the Board of Directors an increase of the capital stock of the corporation is determined upon, a meeting of the stockholders shall be called to consider such resolution, by a notice published at least once a week for four successive weeks previous to the date fixed in such notice for meeting, in some newspaper published in the county where the corporation has its principal place of business, which notice shall state the time and place of meeting, the purpose for which it is called, and the maximum amount to which it is proposed the capital stock shall be increased. The vote of two-thirds of the stock of the corporation shall be necessary to make an increase, which increase may be so made to any amount, not exceeding the maximum amount stated in the said notice of the meeting of stockholders. The Board of Directors shall certify the resolution of the stockholders to the Secretary of State, and that all the requirements of this Section as to such increase of capital stock have been complied with. In case the corporation so increasing its capital stock is incorporated under a general law, the Board of Directors shall likewise return to the Secretary of State the original charter or certificate of incorporation for the endorsement herein mentioned. The Secretary of State shall thereupon record the said certificate of the Board of Directors, and shall likewise endorse upon the charter or certificate of incorporation a certificate of the increase of the capital stock, and shall forthwith return the charter or certificate of incorporation with such endorsement thereon to the Board of Directors; and in cases where the law under which such corporation is created or organized, requires the charter or certificate of incorporation to be recorded in the office of the Register of Mesne Conveyance or Clerk of Court, the certificate of such increase of the capital stock, endorsed by the Secretary on the charter or certificate of incorporation, as hereinbefore required, shall be recorded across the face of the record of the charter or certificate of the incorporation in the office of the Register of Mesne Conveyances or Clerk of Court, where the charter or certificate of the incorporation is required to be recorded, and the increase of the capital stock of such corporation shall be authorized when the certificate is lodged for record in said office. But in cases where the corporation has been created or organized under a special Act of the Legislature, or where such corporation has been created or organized under a general law and its charter has been amended by a special Act, the Secretary of State, upon receipt of the certificate of the Board of Directors, of the resolution of the stockholders aforesaid, and that all the requirements of this Section have been complied with as aforesaid, shall forthwith issue to said corporation a certificate of the increase of the capital stock, which certificate shall be recorded in the office of the Register of Mesne Conveyances or of the Clerk of the Court of the county in which said corporation has its principal place of business; and the increase of the capital stock of such corporation shall be authorized when such certificate is lodged for record in said office. In cases where the capital stock is increased as by this Section provided, the stockholder or stockholders thereof registered on the books of said corporation at the time when such increase of stock shall be authorized, shall have the preference of taking such increase of stock in proportion to the amount of the stock he, she or they may then own; but if such stockholder or stockholders shall not avail himself, herself or themselves of such privilege within ten days after the lodgment for record of such certificate of increase of the capital stock, the Board of Directors may dispose of the said increased capital stock as they may deem best at its market value in money or property.

(4263) § 14. How Capital Stock May Be Decreased.—Decrease of capital stock: (a) When, in the judgment of the Board of Directors of any corporation mentioned in Section 13, the actual capital stock of such corporation has from any cause been impaired and is less than the par value of the shares representing the same, in such cases the nominal capital may be reduced to what, in the judgment of the Board of Directors, is the actual value of the stock of the corporation. When the capital is thus reduced, the outstanding certificates shall be called in, and certificates of the reduced capital apportioned among the stockholders according to their respective holdings: Provided, however, That such reduction shall in no way impair the liability of the stockholders to creditors upon claims against the corporation existing at the time of such reduction. (b) When a corporation owing no debts desires to reduce its capital to a given amount, and to distribute among its stockholders its capital in excess of such amount in such case the outstanding certificates shall be called in, and the surplus capital and certificates for the reduced stock shall be apportioned among the stockholders according to their respective holdings. (c) The following provisions shall govern a reduction of capital in either of the cases mentioned: Should any stockholder or stockholders fail to surrender his, her or their certificate or certificates for conversion into certificates of the reduced stock, such certificate or certificates shall after such reduction represent only the amount of stock in the reduced capital to which the holder or holders would be entitled. Should the interest of any stockholder require the issue of a fractional part of a share, such fractional part of a share may be embodied in a certificate for one or more full shares, or, when necessary, a separate certificate issued therefor. Whenever, by resolution of the Board of Directors, a reduction of capital stock is determined upon, a meeting of the stockholders shall be called to consider such resolution by a notice published at least once a week for four successive weeks previous to the date fixed in such notice for such meeting, in some newspaper published in the county where the corporation has its principal place of business, which notice shall state the time and place of meeting, the purpose for which it is called, and the minimum amount to which it is proposed that the capital shall be reduced. The vote of two-thirds of the stock shall be necessary to make a reduction, which reduction may be made to any amount, not less than the amount stated in the said notice of the meeting of stockholders. The Board of Directors shall certify the resolution of the stockholders to the Secretary of State, and that all the requirements of this Chapter in relation to such decrease of capital stock have been complied with; and where capital is to be distributed, shall further certify that the corporation owes no debts. In case the corporation so decreasing its capital stock is incorporated under a general law, the Board of Directors shall likewise return to the Secretary of State the original charter or certificate of incorporation for the endorsement herein mentioned; the Secretary of State shall thereupon record the said certificates of the Board of Directors, and shall likewise endorse upon the charter or certificate of incorporation a certificate of the decrease or reduction of capital stock, and shall forthwith return the charter or certificate of incorporation, with such endorsement thereon, to the Board of Directors; and in cases where the law under which such corporation is created or organized requires the charter or certificate of incorporation to be recorded in the office of the Register of Mesne Conveyances or Clerk of Court, the certificate of such decrease or reduction of capital stock, endorsed by the Secretary of State on the charter or certificate of incorporation as hereinbefore required, shall be recorded across the face of the record of the charter or certificate of incorporation in the office of the Register of Mesne Conveyances or Clerk of Court, where the charter or certificate of incorporation is required to be recorded; and such decrease or reduction of capital stock shall be authorized when the certificate is lodged for record in said office. But in cases where the corporation has been created or organized under a general law, and its charter has been amended by a special Act, the Secretary of State, upon the receipt of the certificate of the Board of Directors of the resolution of the stockholders aforesaid, and that the requirements of this Chapter have been complied with in relation to such decrease or reduction of capital stock, shall forthwith issue to said corporation a certificate of such decrease or reduction of capital stock, which certificate shall be recorded in the office of the Register of Mesne Conveyances or the Clerk of the Court of the county in which said corporation has its principal place of business; and the said decrease or reduction of capital stock shall be authorized when such certificate is lodged for record in said office. For the services required of him by this Section of this Chapter there shall be paid to the Secretary of State a fee of five dollars, which shall accompany the certificate of the Board of Directors: Provided, however, That in cases where at the time of the original authorization of preferred stock, one of the attaching conditions provides for its payment and retirement thereafter, such condition shall be valid and such stock may thus be paid and retired and the capital stock thus decreased, anything to the contrary herein notwithstanding.

That for the purpose of such condemnation the said municipality shall file, in the Court of Common Pleas for the county in which said municipality is located, a petition setting forth the necessity of filling of such lots, and that the owner or owners have refused or failed to fill the same, upon being notified, and that said owner objects to the estimated cost of said filling, a copy of which petition shall be served upon the owner or owners of said lots as summons are now served in cases of law. That the Judge of said Court of Common Pleas shall thereupon cause a jury to proceed to fix the value to the said lot or lots to be paid by the said municipality.

Highway or Town Way Across Railroad—How May Be Laid Out.—A highway or town way may be laid out across a railroad previously constructed when the County Board of Commissioners adjudge that the public convenience and necessity require the same; and in such case, after due notice to the railroad corporation, and hearing all parties interested, they may thus lay out a highway across a railroad, or may authorize a city or town, on the petition of the Mayor and Aldermen thereof, to lay out a way across a railroad in such manner as not to injure or obstruct the railroad.

(4990) § 1. Written Notice to Landowner—Time—Service—Presumption of Consent.—Whenever any person or corporation shall be authorized by charter to construct a railway, canal or turnpike in this State, such person or corporation, before entering upon any lands for the purpose of construction, shall give the owner thereof (if he be sui juris) notice, in writing, that the right of way over said lands is required for such purpose, which notice shall be given at least thirty days before entering upon said lands; and such notice shall be served upon such owner in the same manner as may be required by law for the service of the summons in civil actions. If the owner shall not, within the period of thirty days after service of said notice, signify, in writing, his refusal or consent, it shall be presumed that such consent is given; and such person or corporation may thereupon enter upon said lands; but the owner of said lands may move for an assessment of compensation in the manner hereinafter directed.†

(4991) § 2. Mode of Acquiring Right of Way—Assessment of Damages—Duty of Clerk.—If the owner of said lands shall signify his refusal of consent to entry thereon without previous compensation, or shall remain silent in reference thereto, the person or corporation requiring such right of way shall apply, by petition, to the Judge of the Circuit wherein such lands are situated, for the empanelling of a jury to ascertain the amount which shall be paid as just compensation for the right of way required, in which petition shall be set forth a description of the lands, the names of the owner, the purposes for which the lands are required, and such other facts as may be deemed material. On the hearing of such petition the Circuit Judge shall order the same to be filed in the office of the Clerk of the Court of Common Pleas for said county, and shall further order the said Clerk to empanel a jury of twelve to ascertain the compensation for the use of the lands required. The Clerk, immediately on receiving such order, must give to the owner of the lands notice thereof, in writing, and of the day which shall be assigned. On the day assigned, the Clerk, in the presence of the parties, if they shall attend, shall select the names of twenty-four disinterested freeholders of the county, and shall draw therefrom the names of twelve to act as jurors and shall cause those so drawn to be forthwith summoned to meet at such place and at such time as he may assign, for the purpose of examining the said lands and ascertaining the compensation to be made for the right of way over the same. It shall further be the duty of said Clerk, in person or by his deputy, to attend at the same time and place for the purpose of organizing the jury; and he shall have power to summon from the vicinage other disinterested freeholders to act as jurors in the stead of any of those first summoned who shall fail to attend or who shall be objected to by either party on the ground of disqualification on account of interest. It shall further be the duty of said Clerk to act as Master or Referee and preside at and over all such hearings, swearing all the witnesses and jurors in the same manner as is now required in all matters before Masters in Equity or Referees, and the said Clerk, or his deputy, shall conduct all of the said hearings, exercising all the powers, authority and duties that are now conferred by law on Masters in Equity and Referees in so far as the same may be necessary and requisite for a proper and speedy determination of the issues involved.

(4992) § 3. Procedure Where Clerk is Interested—Substitution of Probate Judge.—In all cases where the Clerk of the Court of Common Pleas shall be the owner of any lands over which it is sought to obtain a right of way in such county, or shall hold the legal title thereof as trustee, guardian or committee, or have any other interest therein, the proceedings for obtaining the right of way through such lands shall be had as provided in Section 2 hereof, except that the Judge of Probate for such county shall be substituted for the Clerk of the Court of Common Pleas and shall assume all of the duties of the Clerk contained in Section 2 and the following Sections of said Article.

determine the question of compensation submitted to them, shall proceed to inspect the premises, and to take testimony in reference to the construction of the proposed highway, and the quantity of land which shall be required therefor; and, irrespective of any benefit which the owner may derive from the proposed highway, and with respect alone to the quantity and value of the land which may be required, and to the special damage which the owner may sustain by reason of the construction of the highway through his lands, they shall ascertain the amount of compensation which shall be made to the owner thereof, and shall render their verdict in writing for the same.

(4994) § 5. Right of Appeal to Circuit Court—Amount of Verdict to Be Deposited.—From the verdict so rendered it shall be the right of either party to appeal to the first term of the Circuit Court next ensuing in the county, giving to the opposite party fifteen days' notice of such intended appeal, with the grounds thereof; and, upon the hearing of such appeal, an issue shall be ordered, in which the appellant shall be the actor, and the question of compensation shall be thereupon submitted to a jury in open Court, whose verdict shall be final and conclusive, unless a new trial shall be ordered by the Supreme Court. But in no case of appeal shall the progress of the work of construction be stayed: Provided, The person or corporation requiring the right of way shall deposit with the Clerk of the Court the amount of the verdict from which the appeal is taken.

Thereupon, the State Board of Public Welfare shall investigate the application and report their findings with their recommendations to the Board of Regents of the State Training School for the Feeble-minded. The said Board of Regents shall then, in accordance with such rules as they may make, determine which of these applications for admission shall be granted, and in what order. Evidence shall also be heard and inquiry made into the social conditions, such as want of proper supervision, control, care or support, and other causes making it unsafe or dangerous to the welfare of the community for such person to be at large without supervision, control and care. The Commission shall also make a personal examination, touching the mental condition of the alleged feeble-minded person. Upon the conclusion of the hearing, inquiry and examination the Commission shall file with the Court a report in writing showing the result of their examination of the mental condition and social conditions aforesaid, setting forth their conclusions and recommendations upon such blank forms as may be furnished by the said Board of Regents. Turner*, 1 Bail. 421. Allen*, 29 S. C. 501, 7 S. E. 828.

(5269) § 6. Attornments to Strangers by Tenants Void.—To prevent the difficulty and expense to which landlord or landlords, lessor or lessors, may be put by the fraudulent practice of tenants in attorning to strangers who claim title to the estates of their respective landlord or landlords, lessor or lessors (whereby the possession of estates in lands, tenements, and hereditaments, is rendered very precarious, and such landlord or landlords, lessor or lessors, are by that means turned out of possession of their respective estates), all and every such attornment and attornments of any tenant or tenants of any lands, tenements, or hereditaments, shall be deemed and taken to be absolutely null and void, to all intents and purposes whatsoever; and the possession of their respective landlord or landlords, lessor or lessors, shall not be deemed or construed to be anywise changed, altered, or affected by any such attornment or attornments: Provided, That nothing herein contained shall extend to vacate or affect any attornment made pursuant to, and in consequence of, some judgment, decree, or order of Court, or made with the privity and consent of the landlord or landlords, lessor or lessors.

ARTICLE II.

Landlord and Tenant.

(5270) § 1. Lease for More Than One Year to Be Recorded in Forty Days.—All leases or contracts in writing, hereafter to be made between landlord and tenant, for a longer term than twelve months, shall not be valid in law, against the rights and claims of third persons, unless the same shall have been recorded in the office of the Register of Mesne Conveyances within forty days from the time of execution thereof, nor shall any payment made in anticipation of rent, for a longer period than twelve months, be considered a valid discount against the claims and rights of third persons.

Enforced as to recording. City Council v. Page, Speer Eq. 159. Sufficient notice may supply want of registry. Ib. Where mortgage provides that after sale and conveyance, under power therein, the mortgagor shall be tenant of the purchaser, at stipulated rent, the relation of landlord and tenant is established. Swygert v. Goodwin, 32 S. C. 146, 10 S. E. 933; Brewster v. McNab, 36 S. C. 274, 15 S. E. 233. When contract with laborer is not a lease. McCutchen v. Crenshaw, 40 S. C. 511, 19 S. E. 140.

(5271) § 2. When and How Lease Shall Terminate.—Every lease or written agreement hereafter to be entered into, for the renting and leasing of lands and tenements, shall absolutely and unequivocally end and determine at the period therein stated, without it being obligatory on the tenant or the landlord to give the notice required by law.

Civ. '12, § 3501; Civ. '02, § 2415; G. S. 1811; R. S. 1931; 1817, VI, 67.

(5272) § 3. No Parol Lease Valid for More Than One Year.—No parol lease shall give a tenant a right of possession for a longer term than twelve months from the time of entering on the premises; and all such leases shall be understood to be for one year, unless it be stipulated to be for a shorter term.

Civ. '12, § 3502; Civ. '02, § 2416; G. S. 1812; R. S. 1932; 1817, VI, 67.

From the Statutes and the decisions interpreting them the following principles may be deduced: (1) A parol lease gives a tenant a right of possession for a term of twelve months from the time of entering on the premises. If the lease is for a term less than 12 months, of course, the tenant would only be entitled to hold possession for the time stipulated after entering into possession of the premises. (2) A parol lease undertaking to give a tenant a right of possession for a longer term than twelve months is within the Statute of Frauds. Nevertheless, if the tenant is permitted to enter on the premises by virtue of such agreement, he shall have a right of possession for 12 months from the time of such entry, but no longer. (3) A parol lease under which the tenant enters upon the premises shall, after the term of 12 months from the time of entering on the premises, have the effect of an estate at will only. (4) If a landlord refuses to permit a tenant to enter on the premises under a parol lease, no action shall be brought to charge him upon such contract, even if the lease is not for a term exceeding 12 months. Hillhouse v. Jennings, 60 S. C. 373, 38 S. E. 599.

Such parol leases have been held valid for certain purposes in above case of Hillhouse v. Jennings, and also in Davis v. Pollock, 35 S. C. 584, 15 S. E. 897; Godard's Exors. v. R. R., 2 Rich. Law 349; McDonald v. Elfe, 1 N. & McC. 501; Clark v. Bynum, 3 McC. 298. But it does not give right to possession against landlord or any person claiming under him after the first year. State v. Mays, 24 S. C. 195.

If a tenant under a parol lease for a year simply continues in possession after termination of lease, he may be tenant at will, or a tenant from year to year according to circumstances. Matthews v. Hipp, 66 S. C. 162, 44 S. E. 577.

Where tenant entered into possession of premises under parol lease, and there was no express stipulation as to duration of tenancy, trustee in bankruptcy of his estate is entitled to hold premises for full year upon paying monthly rental. In re Schwartzman, 167 Fed. 399, 405.

(5273) § 4. Rents—How Recovered Where Demises Are Not by Deeds.

—It shall and may be lawful to and for any landlord or landlords, where the agreement is not by deed, to recover a reasonable satisfaction for the lands, tenements, or hereditaments, held or occupied by a tenant or tenants, in an action for the use and occupation of what was so held or enjoyed; and if, in evidence on the trial of such action, any parol demise, or any agreement (not being by deed) whereon a certain rent was reserved, shall appear, the plaintiff in such action shall not therefor be nonsuited, but may make use thereof as an evidence of the amount of the damages to be recovered.

Civ. '12, § 3503; Civ. '02, § 2417; G. S. 1813; R. S. 1933; 11 G. 2, c. 19; II, 576.

Plaintiff need show no further title than that defendant holds under lease from him. Moorehead v. Barrett, Chev. 99. But defendant may show title in another, if lessor declared he would not claim rent if title was in another. Woods v. Chambers, 3 Rich. 150. It is good defense to such action that the defendant has been deprived of the beneficial enjoyment of the premises. Coogen v. Parker, 2 S. C. 255.

Generally. Smith v. City of Charleston, 1 Bay 443; Dorrill v. Stephens, 4 McC. 59; Fronty v. Wood, 2 Hill 367; Garlington v. Copeland, 32 S. C. 57, 10 S. E. 616.

(5274) § 5. Provision for Landlords Where Tenants Desert Premises.

—If any tenant holding any lands, tenements, or hereditaments, or where the rent reserved shall be full three-fourths of the yearly value of the demised premises, who shall be in arrear for one year's rent, shall desert the demised premises, and leave the same uncultivated or unoccupied, it shall and may be lawful to and for two or more Magistrates of the county (having no interest in the demised premises), at the request of the lessor or landlord, or his, her, or their bailiff or receiver, to go upon and view the same, and to affix, or cause to be affixed, on the most notorious part of the premises, notice in writing, what day (at the distance of fourteen days at least) they will return to take a second view thereof.

Civ. '12, § 3504; Civ. '02, § 2418; G. S. 1814; R. S. 1934; 11 G. 2, c. 19; II, 577.

Tenant justified in quitting when landlord's title has been sold under execution by the Sheriff. Holmes v. McMaster, 1 Rich. Eq. 340.

(5275) § 6. Abrogation of Lease for Nonpayment of Arrears of Rent.

—If, upon such second view, the tenant, or some person on his or her behalf, shall not appear and pay the rent in arrear, then the said Magistrates may put the landlord or landlords, lessor or lessors, into the possession of the said demised premises; and the lease thereof to such tenant, as to any demise therein contained only, shall from thenceforth become void.

Civ. '12, § 3505; Civ. '02, § 2419; G. S. 1815; R. S. 1935; 11 G. 2, c. 19; II, 577.

(5276) § 7. Tenant May Appeal from Proceedings on Desertion of Premises.—Such proceedings of the said Magistrates shall be examinable in a summary way by the Courts of Common Pleas of the respective counties in which such lands or premises lie, which Courts are empowered to order restitution to be made to such tenant, together with his or her expenses and costs, to be paid by the lessor or landlord, if they shall see cause for the same; and, in case they shall affirm the act of the said Magistrates to award costs, not exceeding twenty-five dollars, for the frivolous appeal.

Civ. '12, § 3506; Civ. '02, § 2420; G. S. 1816; R. S. 1936; II, 577.

(5277) § 8. How Tenants in Writing or by Parol Holding Over May Be Removed.—On the determination of any lease, in writing, or by parol, of any lands and tenements within this State when the lessee shall hold over thereafter, any two Magistrates in the county where the same may be situated, are authorized and required, on the complaint and due proof thereof by any lessor, his heirs or assigns, to place the names of twenty-four neighboring persons, qualified by law to serve as jurors, in a box, and from them draw the names of eighteen, and shall thereupon issue their warrant, in the nature of a summons, directed to the Sheriff or any Constable of the county, commanding such officer to summon the said eighteen persons to attend at a certain place, within four days, and at a place appointed; and from the said eighteen qualified jurors so summoned, twelve shall be drawn in the same manner, who shall be empanelled to try the facts: Provided, That if, from the said eighteen so summoned, the number of twelve cannot, from any cause, be had, the Magistrates are authorized to complete the number from the remaining originally selected. And the said Magistrates shall also summon the said lessee, or any other person claiming or coming into possession under him, at the same time, and in the same way, likewise to appear before them to show cause, if any such lessee or other person may have, why possession of the premises should not be forthwith restored to such lessor, his heirs or assigns; and if, upon hearing the case, the jury shall be satisfied that the complainant is entitled to the possession of the premises in question, they shall so find; whereof the Magistrates shall make a record, and shall thereupon issue their warrant, directed to the Sheriff of the county wherein the lands are situated, commanding him forthwith to deliver to such lessor, his heirs or assigns, full possession of the premises, and to levy all expenses incurred, of the goods and chattels of the lessee, or the person in possession as aforesaid.

Civ. '12, § 3507; Civ. '02, § 2421; G. S. 1817; R. S. 1937; 1812, V, 676; 1817, VI, 67; 1839, XI, 31; XIV, 525.

The jurisdiction under this Section is exclusive and final. Leonard v. McCool, 3 Strob. Eq. 44;
Moultrie v. Dixon, 26 S. C. 296, 2 S. E. 24. But Superior Court may, under proper proceeding, decide whether the inferior tribunal had jurisdiction. Fallin v. Coogan, 12 Rich. 44. Landlord has no right to take the law into his own hands and eject such tenant without legal process. Sharp v. Kinsman, 18 S. C. 108. Lease may be determined by agreement of forfeiture for non-payment of rent. Fallin v. Coogan, 12 Rich. 44. The Acts of 1808 and 1817 have not altered the common rule of three months' notice to quit in tenancy from year to year. Godard v. R. R. Co., 2 Rich 346. The summons must show upon its face the allegations necessary to give this jurisdiction. State v. Latimer, 26 S. C. 208, 2 S. E. 1. Party in possession declining to lease from purchaser of the lands or to surrender possession, Magistrates have no jurisdiction hereunder to eject him. Ib. Sheriff bound to obey the warrant. *Canaday v. (5278) § 9. Ejectment of Tenants at Will, Domestic Servants, Etc.—

When any person or persons have gone, or shall hereafter go, into possession of any land or tenement of another, either as a tenant at will, or under a contract to serve another, either as a domestic servant or common laborer, or otherwise, and shall refuse or neglect to quit the premises so occupied, when required by the person letting the same, or upon the termination of the contract, either by its own limitation or from any other cause, it shall be lawful for the person letting the premises to apply to any Magistrate, whose duty it shall be to have a notice served upon the person or persons so refusing to quit, to show cause before him, at the expiration of ten days from the personal service of such notice, why he should not be ejected; and if no sufficient cause be then shown, it shall be the duty of the Magistrate forthwith to issue his warrant, directed to the Sheriff or any Constable, requiring him, without delay, to eject such person or persons from the premises to let, and authorizing him to use such force as may be necessary.

Magistrate has jurisdiction to determine whether as a fact the relations of landlord and tenant exists; and if so, whether of the character required; and his conclusion, though erroneous, is no ground for prohibition by Superior Court. State v. Fickling, 10 S. C. 301; Morris v. Palmer, 44 S. C. 462, 22 S. E. 726. But such interference will be made when it appears that the issue was not within jurisdiction of Magistrate. Baldwin v. Cooley, 1 S. C. 256; State v. Fickling, 10 S. E. 301. Findings of fact by Magistrate are final and cannot be reviewed under any process. State v. Fort, 24 S. C. 510. But where the character of the tenancy depends upon a written instrument and the Magistrate construes it as not creating a tenancy at will, the Superior Court, upon contrary construction, will, upon proper proceedings, restrain his order. Ib. Where tenant leases land for a year, but continues possession for two years longer, it is not tenancy at will, and Magistrate has no jurisdiction. Ib. Where sub-tenant enters under promise of landlord to execute a new lease, which he afterwards refuses to do, he does not become a tenant at will under this Section. Morris v. Palmer, 44 S. C. 462, 22 S. E. 726. Jurisdictional facts must appear upon the face of the notice. Goodgion v. Latimer, 26 S. C. 208, 2 S. E. 1; Carlisle v. Prior, 48 S. C. 183, 26 S. E. 244; Baldwin v. Cooley, 1 S. C. 256. Appeal under this Section. Moutrie v. Dixon, 26 S. C. 296, 2 S. E. 24.

(5279) § 10. Tenants Holding Over and Failing to Pay Rent.—

In all cases where tenants hold over after the expiration of their lease or contract for rent, whether the same be in writing or by parol, or shall fail to pay the rent when the same shall become due, the landlord is hereby authorized and empowered, either in person or by agent, to demand possession thereof from the tenant or person in possession thereof; and in case of refusal or resistance, it shall be lawful for the person so letting said premises, houses or tenements, his agent or attorney, to apply to a Magistrate, whose duty it shall be to have a notice served upon the person or persons so refusing to be dispossessed to show cause, before him, if any he can, within three days from the date of said personal service, of such notice, why he should not be dispossessed; and if he fails to show sufficient cause, it shall be the duty of the Magistrate forthwith to issue his warrant, directed to the Sheriff of the county or any Constable thereof, requiring him without delay to dispossess said person or persons from the premises so let, and authorizing him to use such force as may be necessary: Provided, That said Magistrate shall receive fifty cents for issuing said notice and warrant, the Sheriff or Constable a fee of one dollar for executing the same, to be paid by the party so refusing to be dispossessed, and if said costs cannot be collected from the tenant, then the same shall be paid by the landlord, except in case of Constables and Magistrates in counties where they receive salaries: Provided, That in case any tenant is wrongfully dispossessed, he, she or they may have an action for damages against said landlord: Provided, further, That either party to the proceeding shall have the right to appeal, which appeal shall stay further proceedings upon the tenant entering into bond with sufficient surety or sureties to pay the landlord all damages which he may sustain thereby: Provided, further, That on demand for trial by jury of either party to the proceedings, trial by jury shall be allowed to decide the issue of fact arising thereunder.

Demand for possession is a necessary prerequisite to proceeding under this Statute. Kellar v. Pagan, 54 S. C. 255, 32 S. E. 855. As to right of appeal prior to Act of 1901, see same case.

Is not unconstitutional. Frazer v. Beaton, 26 S. C. 348, 2 S. E. 125; Swygert v. Goodwin, 32 S. C. 146, 10 S. E. 933. ARTICLE IV.

Betterments.

(5296) § 1. Defendants to Be Awarded Full Value for Improvements in Certain Cases.—After final judgment in an action to recover lands and tenements, in favor of the plaintiff, if the defendant has purchased the lands and tenements recovered in such action, or taken a lease thereof, or those under whom he holds have purchased a title to such lands and tenements, or taken a lease thereof, supposing at the time of such purchase such title to be good in fee, or such lease to convey and secure the title and interest therein expressed, such defendant shall be entitled to recover of the plaintiff in such action the full value of all improvements made upon such land by such defendant, or those under whom he claims, in the manner hereinafter provided.

This Act is not unconstitutional. Lumb v. Pinckney, 21 S. C. 471. Section enforced. Jacobs v. Bush, 17 S. C. 594; Rabb v. Flenniken, 32 S. C. 189, 10 S. E. 943. Where party supposed at time of purchase that he had a good title, he is entitled to improvements made after subsequent knowledge of title in another. Templeton v. Lowry, 22 S. C. 389. Whether he so supposed, is a question of fact to be determined in the case. Id. This Statute recognizes an equitable right and gives a remedy for its enforcement where none existed before. Tumbleston v. Rumph, 43 S. C. 279, 21 S. E. 86; Hall v. Boatwright, 58 S. C. 544, 36 S. E. 1002. And it applies only to actions for recovery of land, and not to actions for partition between co-tenants, where equity affords a remedy for improvements to the common property. Id.; McGee v. Hall, 28 S. C. 562, 6 S. E. 566. Applies only in actions for recovery of land, not in foreclosure suits. Lessly v. Bowie, 27 S. C. 193, 3 S. E. 199. But parties in possession should not be allowed improvements and interest too during time of possession. Boykin v. Ancrum, 28 S. C. 486, 6 S. E. 305.

It applies to improvements made by those under whom the plaintiff claims. Salinas v. Aultman, 45 S. C. 283, 22 S. E. 889. See, also, former hearing in same case: 41 S. C. 304, 19 S. E. 617; and McKnight v. Cooper, 27 S. C. 94, 2 S. E. 842. Such improvements must be made bona fide. Gadsden v. Desportes, 39 S. C. 131, 17 S. E. 706; and Salinas v. Aultman, supra. Accounting as to betterments and rents between co-tenants. Vaughan v. Langford, 81 S. C. 282, 62 S. E. 316, 128 Am. St. Rep. 912, 16 Am. & Eng. Ann. Cas. 91; Shute v. Shute, 82 S. C. 264, 64 S. E. 145.

Bethea v. Allen, 101 S. C. 350, 85 S. E. 903.

(5297) § 2. Value of Improvements—How Determined.—The sum which such land shall be found at the time of the rendition of such judgment to be worth more, in consequence of improvements so made, than it would have been had no such improvements or betterments been made, shall be deemed to be the value of such improvements or betterments.

Civ. '12, § 3527; Civ. '02, § 2441; G. S. 1836; R. S. 1953.

(5298) § 3. Proceedings to Recover Value of Improvements.—The defendant in such action shall, within forty-eight hours after such judgment, or during the term of the Court in which the same shall be rendered, file a complaint against such plaintiff for so much money as the lands and tenements are so made better, in the office of the Clerk of such Court, which shall be sufficient notice to the defendant in such complaint to appear and defend against the same; and all subsequent proceedings shall be had in accordance with the practice prescribed in the Code of Procedure.

"Final judgment," means the judgment in Circuit Court, even in cases of appeal, and it is too late to bring this action after remittitur of Supreme Court. Garrison v. Dougherty, 18 S. C. 436. It does not mean entry of formal judgment, but final determination of rights of parties by verdict. Godfrey v. Fielding, 21 S. C. 313. Defendant by answer claimed improvements, alleging only that he believed he had good title in fee at the time of his purchase, was allowed to amend by averring also a belief of good title at time the improvements were made. McKnight v. Cooper, 27 S. C. 92, 2 S. E. 842.

(5299) § 4. Judgment Stayed Until Sale—Special Verdict—Lien for Betterments.—The Court, on the entry of such action, shall stay all proceedings upon the judgment obtained in the prior action, except the recovery of such lands, until the sale of the lands recovered as hereinafter provided; and the final judgment shall be upon a special verdict by a jury, under the direction of the Court, stating the value of the lands and tenements without the improvements put thereon in good faith by the defendant, and the value thereof with improvements. The defendant in ejectment shall be entitled for said betterments to a verdict for the value thereof, as of the date when the said lands were recovered from him, and interest on said verdict from said date, and the lands and tenements so recovered shall be held to respond to said judgment for betterments in the same manner and for the same time as if the same had been attached on mesne process.

Refusal to stay such judgment pending such action for improvements is a denial of substantial right and appealable. Dill v. Moore, 14 S. C. 338.

(5300) § 5. Direction of Sale—Disbursement of Proceeds—Proviso as to Payment of Betterment.—When final judgment shall be rendered as provided in Section 4, the Court shall direct a sale of the land recovered in ejectment on the following terms: That out of the proceeds of sale, the plaintiff in ejectment, or his legal representative, be paid the amount ascertained as the value of his land without improvements put thereon in good faith by the defendant, and the surplus, if any, be paid to the occupying claimant, or his legal representative, and said judgment for betterments shall be a lien on such land in preference to all other liens: Provided, however, That this Section shall not apply to cases where the plaintiff in ejectment, or his legal representative, shall, within sixty days after the aforesaid special verdict, pay into the office of the Clerk of the Court, for the defendant, the value of the betterments as so found in said special verdict.

Jacobs v. Bush, 17 S. C. 594.

(5301) § 6. Value of Improvement May Be Alleged in Answer.—In any action hereafter brought, or now pending, and which has not been heard, for the recovery of lands and tenements, whether such action be denominated legal or equitable, the defendant who may have made improvements or betterments on such land, believing at the time he makes such improvements or betterments that his title thereto was good in fee, shall be allowed to set up in his answer a claim against the plaintiff for so much money as the land has been increased in value in consequence of the improvements so made; so, likewise, the defendant shall be allowed to set up a claim against the plaintiff for so much money as the land has been increased in value in consequence of improvements or betterments made by the person or persons under or through whom he claims, if it be shown that the defendant actually believes he was taking a good title, in fee simple thereto, at the time of the alleged taking thereof.

Civ. '12, § 3531; Civ. '02, § 2445; R. S. 1957; 1885, XIX, 343; 1917, XXX, 392.

This Section is merely supplemental to § (5296), and includes improvements made by those under whom he claims. Salinas v. Aultman, 45 S. C. 283, 22 S. E. 889; Gadsden v. Desportes, 39 S. C. 131, 17 S. E. 706.

Bethea v. Allen, 101 S. C. 350, 85 S. E. 903.

(5302) § 7. Judge or Jury May Assess Value—Charge on Land—Other Property Exempt.—If the verdict or decree shall be for the plaintiff in such action, the jury or Judge who may render the same may at the same time render a verdict or decree for the defendant for so much money as the lands and tenements are so made better, after deducting the amount of damages, if any, recovered by the plaintiff in such action, and the lands and tenements as recovered shall be held to respond to such judgment for the defendant: Provided, That execution on such judgment shall issue only against such lands and tenements so recovered by the plaintiff in such action, and shall not in any such case issue against the goods and chattels or other lands of the defendant.

Lien of judgment for improvements prevails over claim of homestead. Wilson v. Counts, 52 S. C. 218, 29 S. E. 649.

(5303) § 8. No Recovery for Mesne Profits.—The plaintiff, in an action for the recovery of lands and tenements, shall recover nothing for the mesne profits of the land, except on such improvements as are made by him or those under whom he claims.

(5304) § 9. Foregoing Provisions Not Applicable in Certain Cases.—The foregoing provisions relating to betterments shall not extend to any person who has entered on land by virtue of any contract made with the legal owner of such land, unless it shall appear, on the trial of the action, that such owner has neglected to fulfill such contract of his part, in which case such person in possession shall be entitled to all the privileges hereinbefore provided for those who entered upon land under supposed title, and the same proceedings shall be had, and the land shall be held in the same manner as hereinbefore provided.

liens of judgments as prescribed by the Code of Procedure: Provided, further, That on and after the first day of January, 1902, the provisions of this Section shall apply to all mortgages, those executed prior to the 24th day of December, 1879, as well as to those executed since that date, except mortgages or deeds of trust covering the whole or any part of the real or personal property of a railroad company: Provided, further, That this Section shall not apply to mortgages securing coupon bonds or corporations.

(5346) § 12. Share of Child Dying in Lifetime of Testator.—If any child should die in the lifetime of the father or mother, leaving issue, any legacy of personalty or devise of real estate given in the last will of such father or mother shall go to such issue, unless such deceased child was equally portioned with the other children by the father or mother when living.

The term children does not include grand children and great-grandchildren. Ib.

(5347) § 13. Certain Legacies Declared Void.—If any person who is an inhabitant of this State, or who has any estate therein, shall beget any bastard child, or shall live in adultery with a woman, the said person having a wife or lawful children of his own living, and shall give, by legacy or devise, for the use and benefit of the said woman with whom he lives in adultery, or of his bastard child or children, any larger or greater proportion of the real clear value of his estate, real or personal, after paying of his debts, than one-fourth part thereof, such legacy or devise shall be null and void for so much of the amount or value thereof as shall or may exceed such fourth part of his real and personal estate.

See, also, ante, § (5217).

The gift, or devise, while voidable as to the excess over one-fourth, is a particular estate sufficient to support a remainder. Beatty v. Richardson, 56 S. C. 173, 34 S. E. 73. Adultery is the illicit intercourse of two persons, one of whom, at least, is married. Hull v. Hull, 2 Strob. Eq. 174. So a divorced husband may give to a single woman more than one-fourth of his estate. Ib. Such gift is voidable only at instance of lawful wife and children. Ib.; Powers v. McEachern, 7 S. Action brought to set aside so much of will as gives more than one-fourth of testator's property to a bastard child and to have excess partitioned among heirs at law is in equity. Williams v. Newton, 84 S. C. 98, 65 S. E. 959.

(5348) § 14. Wills Fraudulent as Against Creditors—Proviso.—All wills and testament, limitations, dispositions or appointment of or concerning any lands, tenements or hereditaments, or of any rent, profit, term or charge out of the same, whereof any person or persons, at the time of his, her or their decease, shall be seized in fee simple, in possession, reversion or remainder, or have power to dispose of the same, by his, her or their last wills and testaments, shall be deemed and taken (only as against such creditor or creditors as aforesaid, his, her and their heirs, successors, executors, administrators and assigns, and every of them) to be fraudulent, and clearly, absolutely and utterly void, frustrate, and of none effect; and pretense, color, feigned or presumed consideration, or any other matter or thing to the contrary notwithstanding: Provided, That where there has been or shall be any limitation or appointment, devise or disposition, of or concerning any lands, tenements or hereditaments, for the raising or payment of any real and just debt or debts, or any portion or portions, sum or sums of money, for any child or children of any person, other than the heir at law, according to, or in pursuance of, any marriage contract or agreement in writing bona fide made before such marriage, the same and every of them shall be in full force; and the same lands, tenements and hereditaments shall and may be holden and enjoyed by every such person or persons, his, her and their heirs, executors, administrators and assigns, for whom the said limitation, appointment, devise or disposition was made, and by his, her and their trustee or trustees, his, her and their heirs, executors, administrators and assigns, for such estate or interest as shall be so limited or appointed, devised or disposed, until such debt or debts, portion or portions, shall be raised, paid and satisfied.

(5350) § 16. Will of a Femme Covert Made in Execution of a Power—The probate, before the proper Judge of Probate, of any last will and testament of a femme covert, heretofore or hereafter made in the execution of a power, shall be good, sufficient and effectual in law, in the same manner, and to the same extent as if the testatrix was a femme sole, and a devise or bequest under such will shall be admitted in evidence in the same manner, and have the same effect in the Courts of law in this State, as if no coverture existed at the time of making thereof.

(5351) § 17. Wills—How Proved.—When a paper is offered before a Judge of Probate as the last will and testament of a person deceased, he may admit it to probate in either of the following forms, that is to say:

Civ. '02, § 2491; G. S. 1870; R. S. 2003.

The admission of a will to probate merely establishes the fact that it has been made as required by Statute. Burkett v. Whittemore, 36 S. C. 428, 15 S. E. 616.

(1) COMMON FORM.—Without citing or calling before him such as have interest, he may examine one of the subscribing witnesses thereto, or, in case of their death, or their removal from the State, by proof of the handwriting of the testator or testatrix and of the subscribing witnesses, or any other secondary evidence admissible and sufficient by the rules of the common law; and if such proof shall satisfy the Judge of Probate that the paper is the last will and testament of the deceased, he shall admit it to probate in common form.

Ordinary on application for probate of will in solemn form can revoke probate in common form by his predecessor. Gibson v. Brown, 1 N. & McC. 326. To complete probate, letters testamentary must be granted. In re Drayton, 1 McC. 46.

Any person interested in invalidating will is proper party to proof of will in solemn form in Probate Court. Mordecai v. Canty, 86 S. C. 470, 68 S. E. 1049.

When the whereabouts of the subscribing witnesses are unknown or it is for any reason impossible to prove the handwriting of all of such witnesses by proof of the handwriting of the testator or testatrix and of at least one of the subscribing witnesses, or any other secondary evidence admissible and sufficient by the rules of the common law; and if such proof shall satisfy the Judge of Probate that the paper is the last will and testament of the deceased he shall admit it to probate in common form: Provided, That the provisions of this paragraph shall apply only to wills executed by a person in the service of the United States in the war between the United States and Germany which are offered for probate before the first day of January, 1923.

1839, XI, 59; 1920, XXXI, 825.

(2) DUE FORM OF LAW.—Probate in common form shall be good, unless some person or persons interested to invalidate the said paper as a will shall give notice to the Judge of Probate, within four years next after such probate (or, if any party interested therein be subject to the disability of infancy, then, within four years next after such disability removed), that he, she or they do require it to be proved in due form of law, which is as follows: The Judge of Probate shall require the party producing the will for probate to prefer a petition in writing, praying to be permitted to swear and examine witnesses upon the same, for the publishing or confirming thereof; and, thereupon, all such persons as would have been entitled to distribution of the estate, if the deceased had died intestate, shall be summoned to answer the petition, in like manner as is provided for the summons of parties to civil actions in the Courts of Common Pleas; whereupon he shall, after swearing all the subscribing witnesses to the same, proceed to examine severally, and to take down in writing such depositions of other witnesses as are made for or against the confirmation of the will, upon all matters touching its legal validity, or formal execution; and, in case the proof be sufficient, he shall, by his decree, pronounce for the validity of the will.

1889, XI, 59.

Aquiescence in probate in common law for four years thereafter, or after removal or disabilities, will bar this proceeding. Kinard v. Riddlehoeover, 3 Rich. 258; Ward v. Glenn, 9 Rich. 127. Non-resident next of kin ignorant of the will permitted to litigate it for fraud, after probate. McDowell v. Peyton, 2 Dec. 313. If no executor or administrator, parties interested in sustaining the will may be required to so prove the will. Ib. Will established thus, and confirmed on appeal, cannot be disturbed by Court of Equity. Irby v. McCrane, 4 DeS. 422. Probate Court cannot construe will on such application—only determines execution and capacity. Prater v. Whittle, 16 S. C. 40. And lapse of four years thereafter will not bar the right to dispute validity of provisions of the will. Craig v. Beatty, 11 S. C. 375. Testator's signature need not be proved by each witness; sufficient if proved by others. Welch v. Welch, 9 Rich. 133. (3) PROCEEDINGS IN CASES OF NONRESIDENTS—SUMMONS—NONAPPEARANCE.—When the person producing said will for probate is a nonresident of the State, or cannot, after due diligence, be found within the State, and that fact appears by affidavit to the satisfaction of the Probate Judge, and it in like manner appears that there is cause for the commencement of proceedings for the probate of said will in solemn form, the said Probate Judge may grant an order that a summons requiring the filing of the petition herein provided for be served on such absent or nonresident person by publication in such manner and for such period and with like force and effect as provided by law in regard to the publication of summons in civil actions. If such absent or nonresident person shall fail or neglect to file his or her petition pursuant to said summons within twenty days after the expiration of the period of publication thereof, it shall be lawful for the Probate Judge, upon application by the party or parties moving in the proceedings, to enter judgment pro confesso against such absent or nonresident person, and to issue a summons to all such persons as would have been entitled to share in the distribution of the estate if the deceased had died intestate, requiring them to attend at the said Court on a day therein fixed. And such further proceedings shall thereupon be had as provided by paragraph 2 of this Section.

Civ. '12, § 3579; 1891, XX, 1120.

(5352) § 18. Proof of Signatures of Subscribing Witnesses.—Upon occasion of proving a will in solemn form, if it appear to the Judge of Probate that the witnesses to the will, or any of them, are dead, or insane, proof of the handwriting of the witnesses so dead or insane, and of the handwriting of the testator, shall be admitted by the Judge of Probate as prima facie evidence that the testator did execute the will in question, in the presence of the witnesses thereto.

(5356) § 22. In the event there be no such general guardian, committee or trustee, or if such proceedings are not instituted by such guardian, committee or trustee, within reasonable time, the Judge of Probate shall appoint some fit and proper person as guardian ad litem to institute and prosecute such proceedings.

Embrace a vested remainder. Harrison v. Maxwell, 2 N. & McC. 347. Sullivan*, 2 Rich. Eq. 4. Endorsement of acknowledgment of levy by defendant is sufficient. Weatherby v. Covington, 3 Strob. 27; Rhame v. McRoy, 7 Rich. 37. Subsequent judgment creditor cannot complain of Sheriff's neglect to bind bidder by resale within time required. State v. Yongue, 6 Rich. 323. Where first bidder is insolvent and Sheriff fails to so bind him, and resells for less than his bid, the execution is not satisfied to extent of bid. Lewis v. Richardson, 6 Rich. 382. Where debtor consents to postpone resale, Sheriff is not liable for difference in bids. State v. Yongue, 9 Rich. 443. So where judgment creditor consents. State v. Yongue, 10 Rich. 448. CHAPTER LXXXI.

Of Homesteads.

(5490) § 1. Homestead in Lands—What Allowed—How Set Off.—A homestead in lands, whether held in fee or any lesser estate, to the value of one thousand dollars, or so much thereof as the property is worth if its value is less than one thousand dollars, with the yearly products thereof, shall be exempt to the head of every family residing in this State from attachment, levy or sale, in mesne or final process issued from any Court, upon any judgment obtained upon any right of action arising subsequent to the ratification of the Constitution of the State of South Carolina in 1868. And it shall be the duty of the Sheriff or other officer before selling the real estate of any head of a family resident in this State to cause a homestead as above stated to be set off to said person in the manner following, to wit: He shall cause three appraisers to be appointed, one to be named by the creditor, one by the debtor and one by himself, who shall be discreet and disinterested men, in no wise related to either party, and resident in the county, and who shall be sworn by a Magistrate, or other officer authorized by law to administer oaths, to impartially appraise and set off by metes and bounds a homestead not to exceed in value one thousand dollars. The said appraisers shall make return of their action in the premises under their hands and seals to the Sheriff or other officer within thirty days after they shall have been appointed as aforesaid, for record in the office of the Clerk of Court, giving the metes and bounds as well as the value of the homestead set off, for which purpose they shall be authorized to call in the aid of a surveyor if they, or a majority of them, deem it necessary. If no complaint shall be made by either creditor or debtor within thirty days after the return of the appraisers has been filed, the proceedings in the case shall be final. If exceptions to said return be filed by either creditor or debtor within thirty days after the filing thereof, the same shall be tried de novo upon testimony taken in open Court, and the Court out of which the process issued may, upon good cause being shown, order a reappraisement and reassignment of the homestead by other appraisers appointed by the Court. Should the creditor or debtor neglect or refuse, after ten days' notice from the officer in whose hands the process is lodged, to nominate an appraiser, the said officer shall appoint the same.

Character of homestead. It is an absolute exemption, to be perpetuated under certain conditions. McKeown v. Carroll, 5 S. C. 75; Hardin v. Houze, 18 S. C. 73; Bradford v. Buchanan, 39 S. C. 237, 17 S. E. 501; Ross v. Bradford, 28 S. C. 71, 5 S. E. 84; Mellichamp v. Mellichamp, 28 S. C. 125, 5 S. E. 333; Parr v. Linder, 40 S. C. 193, 18 S. E. 636. (5492) § 3. When Sheriff Shall Sell Premises.—Whenever, in the assignment of a homestead, as provided in Section 1 of this Chapter, the appraisers shall find that the premises exceed the value of one thousand ($1,000) dollars, and that the same cannot be divided without injury to the remainder, they shall make and sign, under oath, an appraisal thereof, and deliver the same to the Sheriff, who shall within ten days thereafter deliver a copy thereof to the head of the family claiming the homestead, or to some member of the family of suitable age to understand the nature thereof, with a notice attached that unless the person so claiming the homestead shall pay to said Sheriff the surplus of the appraised value over and above one thousand ($1,000) dollars within sixty days thereafter, such premises will be sold; and on failure to pay such surplus in the time limited, the Sheriff shall advertise and sell the said premises, and out of the proceeds of such sale shall pay into the office of the Clerk of the Circuit Court one thousand ($1,000) dollars, which shall be applied, under the order of the Circuit Judge, upon the application of the head of the family, in the purchase of a homestead of that value. E. 321.

(5493) § 4. Insolvency and incompetency of trustee is ground of attack. Regenstein v. Pearlstein, 30 S. C. 192, 8 S. E. 859. A bona fide assignment made, not for partial, but general benefit of all the creditors, and comprehending all the debtor's property, is not fraudulent. Bush v. Waring, 1 Bay 90. Merely placing certain debts at head of schedule gives no preference. Winslow v. Assignees, 1 McC. Ch. 100. An assignment giving no preference to such creditors as may accept and release is valid. Vaughn v. Evans, 1 Hill Ch. 414; Nivon v. Douglass, 2 Hill Ch. 443; Aiken v. Price, Dud. 59; Pfeifer v. Dargan, 14 S. C. 44; Jaffray v. Steedman, 35 S. C. 33, 14 S. E. 632. But it is void if made upon the condition that all creditors accept and release. Jacob v. Corbett, Chev. Eq. 71; LePrince v. Guillemot, 1 Rich. Eq. 219; Stewart v. Kerrison, 3 S. C. 266; Claflin v. Iseman, 23 S. C. 416; Trumbo v. Hamel, 29 S. C. 520, 8 S. E. 83; Clarke v. Baker, 36 S. C. 420, 15 S. E. 614. But such an assignment is void if it gives any advantage to the assignor to the detriment of creditors. Stewart v. Kerrison, 3 S. C. 266. Partnership may assign the partnership property alone, giving such preference to releasing creditors of the firm. Trumbo v. Hamel, 29 S. C. 520, 8 S. E. 83; Armstrong v. Hurst, 39 S. C. 498, 13 S. E. 150. But where partners assign both their individual and partnership assets, and give the individual creditors preference out of the individual assets, the assignment is void. Blair v. Blair, 31 S. C. 346, 9 S. E. 1033. When no time is fixed for acceptance upon the terms prescribed, creditors may accept at any time before the fund is distributed. Tennant v. Stoney, 1 Rich. Eq. 222; Adler v. Cloud, 42 S. C. 272, 20 S. E. 393; Beall v. Lowndes, 4 S. C. 258; Atlantic Co. v. Law, 46 S. C. 606, 23 S. E. 955. Preference given accepting creditors within limited time. McElwee v. McGill, 57 S. C. 6, 35 S. E. 401; Trumbo v. Hamel, 29 S. C. 520, 8 S. E. 83. But if time is fixed they must do so within the time. Pfeifer v. Dargan, 14 S. C. 44; Jaffray v. Steedman, 35 S. C. 33, 14 S. E. 632. Acceptance in terms is not necessary, unless required; it may be presumed from conduct. Tennant v. Stoney, 1 Rich. Eq. 222. But if required to be in writing, it must be so. Bank v. Walker, 12 Rich. 304; Hewitt v. Darlington Phosphate Co., 43 S. Car. 5, 20 S. E. 804; Burgess v. Westmoreland, 38 S. C. 425, 17 S. E. 56. Acceptance and receipt of share of proceeds bind the creditor, and he cannot afterwards question the validity of the assignment. Pierce, Butler & Co. v. Jones & Sons, 3 S. C. 273; Arnold v. Bailey, 24 S. C. 493. But where assignment requires both an acceptance and release in writing within a given time, the creditor must give both, to be entitled to preference; written acceptance alone not sufficient. Jaffray v. Steedman, 35 S. C. 33, 14 S. E. 632. A complaint to set aside a sale and mortgage as void under this Section must state that they were made to creditors of the assignor. Miller v. Hughes, 33 S. C. 530, 12 S. E. 419.

A mortgage made in good faith to secure notes past due, neither party knowing of the insolvency of mortgagor and no general assignment being made, is valid. Weitz v. Potter, 32 Fed. 888.

(5512) § 11. All Transactions Within Ninety Days of Insolvency Void.

—If any person, being insolvent, within ninety days before the making of any assignment by him or her of his or her property for the benefit of his or her creditors, with a view of giving a preference to any creditor or person having a claim against him or her, or who is under any liability for him or her, procures or suffers any part of his or her property to be attached, sequestered, or seized on execution, or makes any payment, pledge, assignment, transfer, or conveyance of any part of his or her property, either directly or indirectly, absolutely or conditionally, the person receiving such payment, pledge, assignment, transfer, or conveyance of any part of his or her property, or to be benefited thereby, or by such attachment, having reasonable cause to believe such person to be insolvent, and that such attachment, sequestration, seizure, payment, pledge, assignment or conveyance is made in fraud of the provisions of this Chapter, the same shall be void, and the assignee may recover the property, or the value of it, from the person so receiving it, or so to be benefited. Nothing, however, in this Section shall be construed to invalidate any loan of actual value, or the security therefor, made in good faith, upon a security taken in good faith, on the occasion of the making of such loan, or any security bona fide made for advances.

Constructive assignments giving preferences void. Putney v. Friesleben, 32 S. C. 492, 11 S. E. 337; Meinhard v. Youngblood, 41 S. C. 312, 19 S. E. 675. Mortgages held not to be. Lamar v. Pool, 26 S. C. 441, 2 S. E. 322; McIntire v. Legon, 38 S. C. 457, 17 S. E. 253; Monaghan Bay Co. v. Dickson, 39 S. C. 146, 17 S. E. 696. Where the reservation is covered by the homestead it does not affect the validity of the assignment. Haynes v. Hoffman, 46 S. C. 157, 24 S. E. 103. The term insolvent means not having sufficiency of property to pay debts under legal process. Akers v. Rowan, 33 S. C. 451, 12 S. E. 165. The manifest object of this Section is to prevent an insolvent debtor from transferring his property for the benefit of one or more creditors to the exclusion of others, whether by deed of assignment or in any other mode. Wilks v. Walker, 22 S. C. 108. It applies to foreign assignments as well as domestic. Sheldon v. Blauvelt, 29 S. C. 453, 7 S. E. 593. It only applies to an actual assignment or to what is tantamount to an assignment. Verner v. McGhee, 26 S. C. 248, 2 S. E. 113; Lamar v. Pool, 26 S. C. 441, 2 S. E. 322; Archer v. Long, 32 S. C. 171, 11 S. E. 86; Putney v. Friesleben, 32 S. C. 492, 11 S. E. 337. It does not forbid the right of securing one creditor over another. Magovern v. Richard, 27 S. C. 272, 3 S. E. 340. So where insolvent debtor transfers all of his property to one or more creditors by mortgage, bill of sale or deed, or in any mode intended to be an assignment for the benefit of such creditors to exclusion of all other creditors, the transaction is void. Wilks v. Walker, 22 S. C. 108; Austin v. Morris, 23 S. C. 393; Mann v. Poole, 40 S. C. 1, 18 S. E. 145; Meinhard v. Strickland, 29 S. C. 491, 7 S. E. 837; Mitchell v. Mitchell, 42 S. C. 475, 20 S. E. 405; Archer v. Long, 32 S. C. 171, 11 S. E. 86; Putney v. Friesleben, 32 S. C. 492, 11 S. E. 337. But a mortgage not so intended is not void. Lamar v. Pool, 26 S. C. 441, 2 S. E. 322; Magovern v. Richard, 27 S. C. 272, 3 S. E. 340; Archer v. Long, 32 S. C. 171, 11 S. E. 86. But where one purchased stock of goods of insolvent, bona fide, and paid in part with a debt due him by vendor, the transaction is not in violation hereof. Verner v. McGhee, 26 S. C. 248, 2 S. E. 113. Assignments are not void because they provide preference for liens and for counsel fees for services rendered for assignment. Bryce v. Foot, 25 S. C. 467; Verner v. Davis, 26 S. C. 609, 2 S. E. 114; Akers v. Rowan, 33 S. C. 351, 12 S. E. 165. But are void when they give preference for legal services not so rendered. Clarke v. Baker, 36 S. C. 420, 15 S. E. 614. It matters not whether the preference is fraudulent or not. Lamar v. Pool, 26 S. C. 441, 2 S. E. 322; Magovern v. Richard, 27 S. C. 272, 3 S. E. 340. And preferences in foreign assignments, there valid, are void here. Sheldon v. Blauvelt, 29 S. C. 453, 7 S. E. 593. A mortgage not recorded for nineteen months, and then recorded within two days before assignment, is not made within ninety days before such assignment and not avoided by this Section. South Carolina Co. v. McPherson, 26 S. C. 431, 2 S. E. 267. A mortgage of insolvent debtor to secure a creditor, if not accepted with knowledge of the insolvency within ninety days before general assignment, is not void. Magovern v. Richard, 27 S. C. 272, 3 S. E. 340. The Section is not restricted to conveyances to creditors alone; but a conveyance to his wife, by an insolvent debtor, as a preference, within ninety days before his assignment, is embraced in this Section, and is void. Wagner v. Boynton, 29 S. C. 389, 7 S. E. 481. Mortgage of individual property by copartner. Durham v. Hemphill, 45 S. C. 621, 24 S. E. 85. Reservation of property by prior fraudulent conveyance renders assignment void. Younger v. Massey, 39 S. Car. 115, 17 S. E. 711. Rights of creditors under assignment. Rytenberg v. Keels, 39 S. C. 203, 17 S. E. 441; McCreery v. Garvin, 39 S. C. 375, 17 S. E. 828. Where assignment is set aside. Younger v. Massey, 41 S. C. 50, 19 S. E. 125.

In order to set aside deed as void under this Section it is necessary to show (1) that grantor was insolvent, (2) that it was intended to give an unlawful preference, and (3) that the grantee had cause to believe the first two facts. Lenhardt v. Ponder, 64 S. C. 354, 42 S. E. 169.

Chattel mortgage void, when. Secrest v. Ins Co., 68 S. C. 378, 47 S. E. 680.

(5513) § 12. Creditor May Attack Assignment Before Judgment.—

Whenever any debtor shall assign his or her property for the benefit of his or her creditors, it shall and may be lawful for any creditor or creditors of the said debtor, either by simple contract, specialty, or in any other manner, to institute proceedings against the said debtor, or the assignee named in the said assignment, or both, or any other person properly parties thereto, either to attack and set aside the said deed of assignment, or to enforce the provisions thereof, or for any other purpose whatever, without first obtaining and entering up judgment against the said debtor upon the claim or demand so held by the said creditor or creditors.

Applied. Austin v. Morris, 23 S. C. 393; Meinhard v. Strickland, 29 S. C. 491, 7 S. E. 838; Regenstein v. Pearlstein, 30 S. C. 192, 8 S. E. 850; Miller v. Hughes, 33 S. C. 530, 12 S. E. 419. Releases under mistake. Whitehill v. Dacus, 49 S. C. 273, 27 S. E. 200.

The promise of future marriage between parties living in concubinage does not make marriage, although that intercourse continue. North v. Valk, Dud. Eq. 212. Nor will any engagements to marry in the future. Fryer v. Fryer, Rich. Eq. Ca. 85. Marriage is a civil contract, whereby the parties take each other in presenti for man and wife. *Fryer v. Of the fee of one ($1.00) dollar the Probate Judge shall retain twenty-five (25) cents as his compensation; and the remaining seventy-five (75) cents shall be paid into the County Treasury and go to the school fund of said county: Provided, That in the Counties of Abbeville, Cherokee, Greenville, Jasper, Edgefield, Lancaster, Lee, Marlboro, Orangeburg, Williamsburg, and York the Probate Judge shall retain the sum of fifty (50) cents as his compensation: Provided, further, In the Counties of Aiken, Allendale, Barnwell, Chester, Chesterfield, Clarendon, Dorchester, Fairfield, Florence, Greenwood, Hampton, Laurens, Marion, McCormick and Union the Probate Judge shall retain the entire fee as his compensation: And provided, further, That in the Counties of Colleton, Darlington, Georgetown, Horry, Oconee and Sumter the said license shall be issued by the Clerk of the Court: And provided, further, That no such license shall be issued when the woman or child-woman is under the age of fourteen, or when the man or male is under the age of eighteen: And provided, further, That when either party to the proposed marriage shall be under eighteen years of age, and shall reside with father or mother or other relative or guardian, the Probate Judge shall not issue a license for the said marriage until the consent of such relative or guardian, in writing, shall first be delivered to him.

(5533) § 12. Bigamous Marriages Void—Proviso.—All marriages contracted while either of the parties has a former wife or husband living shall be void: Provided, That this Section shall not extend to a person whose husband or wife shall be absent for the space of seven years, the one not knowing the other to be living during that time; nor to any person who shall be divorced, or whose first marriage shall be declared void by the sentence of a competent Court.

As to the effect of husband being civiliter mortuus on property rights. Wright v. Wright, 2 DeSaus. 242. A husband being more than seven years absent, and reported to be dead or not heard from, the wife may marry again. Woods v. Woods, 2 Bay 476; Boyce v. Owens, 1 Hill 8. The first wife will be presumed to be alive until seven years after the time she was last heard of, unless shown to have died in the meantime. Proctor v. McCall, 2 Bail. 298. The presumption arising from seven years' absence under this Section is of the fact of death only, and not as to the time thereof; but where the presumption is based upon the common law period of twenty years, it is that the death occurred at the commencement of that period. Chapman v. Cooper, 5 Rich. 452. And where a wife marries within the seven years, the presumption of her innocence, with circumstances, may outweigh the presumption of the husband's living. Ib. Where a husband married the second time, about six years after his absent wife was last known to be alive but when he had received information by letter that she was dead, his marriage was held valid; she not having been heard of for forty years. Canady v. George, 6 Rich. Eq. 103. But it seems that this presumption must be confined in its effect to exemption from charges of bigamy or other crime and intentional violations of the marriage vows. If the absent consort return or be proved otherwise to be living at the time of the second marriage, the second marriage is void and the issue spurious. Duke v. Palmer, Rich. Eq. 121.

(5534) § 13. Rights and Privileges Conferred on Certain Marriages.

—All persons in this State who, previous to their actual emancipation, had undertaken and agreed to occupy the relation to each other of husband and wife and are cohabiting as such, or in any way recognizing the relation as still existing at the time of the passage of this Chapter, whether the rites of marriage have been celebrated or not, shall be deemed husband and wife, and be entitled to all the rights and privileges, and be subject to all the duties and obligations of that relation, in like manner as if they had been duly married according to law.

Certain Children Legitimized.—The children of such marriages shall be deemed legitimate; and when the parties shall have ceased to cohabit, in consequence of the death of the woman or from other causes, all of the children of the woman, recognized by the man to be his, shall be deemed legitimate: Provided, however, That no provisions of Sections 13 and 14 shall be deemed to extend to persons who have agreed to live in concubinage after their emancipation.

And to make the issue, when there has been a separation, the legitimate heirs of the mother. Ib. When a free man of color marries a slave, and then, before emancipation, marries a free woman of color, at his death both wives surviving, the children of both wives are his legal heirs. Eq. 27; Creighton v. Clifford, 6 S. C. 188; Witsell v. Charleston, 7 S. C. 88; Oliver v. Grimbail, 14 S. C. 556. This Section not retrospective, and the vested rights of the husband in lands of wife before the Constitution of 1868 not affected thereby. Bouknight v. Epting, 11 S. C. 71; Shuler v. Bull, 15 S. C. 421. Nor are vested rights of creditors affected thereby. Clawson v. Hutchinson, 11 S. C. 323. Such Constitution did not make a settlement upon the wife of her lands acquired before. Ib. But her interest in the land acquired before it is her separate property. Kincaid v. Anderson, 33 S. C. 260, 11 S. E. 766. So in personality not reduced to possession. Trustees v. Bryson, 34 S. C. 401, 13 S. E. 619. Such construction would make it violative of the Constitution of the United States. Ib. But in construing the acts of a married woman as to her separate estate prior thereto, the Constitution of 1868 may be looked to as showing the policy of the State as to control of married women over their separate estates. Oliver v. Grimbail, 14 S. C. 556. The Constitution of 1868 only intended to protect the property of a married woman and not to confer new powers upon her by a change of her legal status. Peizer v. Campbell, 15 S. C. 581; Townsend v. Brown, 16 S. C. 92; Aultman v. Rush, 26 S. C. 517, 2 S. E. 402; Bridgers v. Howell, 27 S. C. 425, 3 S. E. 790; Gwynn v. Gwynn, 27 S. C. 525, 4 S. E. 229. It did not empower her to mortgage her separate estate. Aultman v. Rush, 26 S. C. 517, 2 S. E. 402. It gave her no general power to contract. Gwynn v. Gwynn, 27 S. C. 525, 4 S. E. 229. Since the Constitution of 1868 a married woman may acquire separate property by gift from her husband. State v. Pitts, 12 S. C. 180; Gerald v. Gerald, 28 S. C. 442, 6 S. E. 290; Grantham v. Grantham, 34 S. C. 504, 13 S. E. 675. But mere use and enjoyment of personal property purchased by her husband does not create her separate estate therein. Ib. A bequest to a daughter by a father in 1861, to be free from debts and control of husband, could be properly paid to the daughter herself after the Constitution of 1868. Witte v. Clarke, 17 S. C. 313. What is her separate property. DeLoach v. Sarrait, 55 S. C. 254, 32 S. E. 2. Kennington v. Catoe, 68 S. C. 470, 47 S. E. 719.

(5538) § 2. Earnings of Married Women.—All the earnings and income of a married woman shall be her own separate estate, and shall be governed by the same provisions of law as apply to her other separate estate.

Prior to this Act, see Boozar v. Addison, 2 Rich. Eq. 273, 46 Am. Dec. 43; Bridgers v. Howell, 27 S. C. 425, 3 S. E. 790; Grantham v. Grantham, 34 S. C. 504, 13 S. E. 675; Hairston v. Hairston, 35 S. C. 298, 14 S. E. 634.

(5539) § 3. Right of Married Women to Convey, Bequeath and Devise Property—Descent.—A married woman shall have power to bequeath, devise, or convey her separate property in the same manner and to the same extent as if she were unmarried; and, dying intestate, her property shall descend in the same manner as the law provides for the descent of the property of husbands; and all deeds, mortgages and legal instruments of whatever kind shall be executed by her in the same manner, and have the same legal force and effect as if she were unmarried.

Green v. Cannady, 77 S. C. 193, 57 S. E. 832.

This power is absolute. Phillips v. Oswald, 42 S. C. 71, 20 S. E. 18; Carroll v. Thomas, 54 S. C. 520, 32 S. E. 497. Assignment of mortgage. Langston v. Smyley, 38 S. C. 121, 16 S. E. 771. Married woman has power to alienate her equitable estate in stock held in trust simply for her at adoption of the Constitution of 1868. Witsell v. Charleston, 7 S. C. 83. But has no such power where the trustee has contrary power. Rabb v. Flenniken, 29 S. C. 278, 7 S. E. 597. As to her separate property, there may be dealings between the wife and her husband, as if she were discoverer. McLure v. Lancaster, 24 S. C. 273. A gift from her to her husband may be inferred. Ibid. This Section does not confer the power to make such legal instruments, but only declares the mode of their execution in pursuance of power elsewhere given. Aultman v. Rush, 26 S. C. 517, 2 S. E. 402. And giving a lien by mortgage is neither a bequest, a devise nor an alienation. Ib. This power to sell is not limited to "a sale, pure and simple, for valuable consideration," benefiting her separate estate; but allows disposition by gift or otherwise. Booker v. Wingo, 29 S. C. 116, 7 S. E. 49.

(5540) § 4. Powers of Married Women as to Property and Contracts—Liability of Husband.—A married woman shall have the right to purchase any species of property in her own name, and to take proper legal conveyances therefor, and to bind herself by contract, in the same manner and to the same extent as though she were unmarried, which contracts shall be legal and obligatory, and may be enforced at law or in equity by or against such married woman in her own name, apart from her husband: Provided, That the husband shall not be liable for the debts of the wife contracted prior to or after their marriage, except for necessary support and that of their minor children residing with her.

The provision relieving the husband of his common law liability for debts of his wife was held not retrospective in Clawson v. Hutchinson, 11 S. C. 323. Judgment on such liability must be recovered during the continuance of coverture. Buckner v. Smyth, 4 DeSauss. 37; Wilson v. DuBoe, 1 Bail. Eq. 166; Terry v. Hopkins, 1 Hill Eq. 43. Action against husband for supplies furnished wife and children. Hantz v. Marjehoff, 42 S. C. 427, 20 S. E. 278. Liability where separated through husband's fault. Clement v. Mattison, 3 Rich. L. 93. Where separated through fault of wife. Williams v. Prince, 3 Strob. 490.

Decisions on contracts prior to the Constitution of 1895. The wife could not be bound as copartner with husband on contract not relating to her separate estate. Collins v. Hall, 55 S. C. 336, 33 S. E. 466; Gwynn v. Gwynn, 27 S. C. 525, 4 S. E. 229; Vannerson v. Cheatham, 41 S. C. 329, 19 S. E. 614. The Act of 1887 refers only to declaration of intent to bind separate estate in conveyances, mortgages and like formal instruments. Martin v. Suber, 39 S. C. 525, 18 S. E. 125; Collins v. Hall, 55 S. C. 336, 33 S. E. 466; Singluff v. Tindal, 40 S. C. 504, 19 S. E. 137. Effect of absence of declaration of intent. Rigby v. Logan, 45 S. C. 651, 24 S. E. 56. It does not apply to absolute conveyances. Carroll v. Thomas, 54 S. C. 520, 32 S. E. 497. The burden of proof was upon the party attempting to show contract was one within the power of a married woman. Collins v. Hall, 55 S. C. 336, 33 S. E. 466; Christensen v. Wells, 52 S. C. 499, 30 S. E. 611; Earley v. Law, 42 S. C. 330, 20 S. E. 136; Mortgage Co. v. Mixon, 38 S. C. 432, 17 S. E. 244; Simon v. Sabb, 56 S. C. 38, 33 S. E. 799; Pelzer v. Durham, 37 S. E. 354, 16 S. E. 46; Reid v. Stevens, 38 S. C. 519, 17 S. E. 358; Bailey v. Seymour, 42 S. C. 322, 20 S. E. 62; Kuker v. Carter, 42 S. C. 84, 20 S. E. 22. She might borrow money and purchase or pay claims against her husband. Ellis v. Cribb, 55 S. C. 328, 33 S. E. 484; Philpot v. Cantey, 52 S. C. 515, 30 S. E. 595. Moral obligation to pay for goods accepted and used by her was a sufficient consideration for a note. Ferguson v. Harris, 39 S. C. 323, 17 S. E. 782. While a married woman had absolute power to convey, where she gave a power of sale in a mortgage as security, the power fell with mortgage. Dunbar v. Foreman, 40 S. C. 490, 19 S. E. 136.

This Section, so far as it purports to enlarge the powers of a married woman, beyond the terms of the Constitution of 1868 on that subject, is within the plenary power of the Legislature and not unconstitutional. Pelzer v. Campbell, 15 S. C. 581. While it gives the power to purchase, it does not give the power to execute a mortgage to secure the purchase for her husband. Aultman v. Gibert, 28 S. C. 303, 5 S. E. 806. Or secure his debt by mortgage of her separate property. Connor v. Edwards, 36 S. C. 563, 15 S. E. 706.

Married woman may bind herself by contract. Ross v. Linder, 12 S. C. 592. Prior to this Act of 1882, amending Act of 1870, the wife could become surety for her husband. Wittell v. Charles-ton, 7 S. E. 88; Clinkscales v. Hall, 15 S. C. 602; Witte v. Wolf, 16 S. C. 256; Witte v. Clark, 17 S. C. 313. And become surety for the firm of which her son was a member. Pelzer v. Campbell, 15 S. C. 581. Or for her son. Witte v. Wolf, 16 S. C. 256. And she could mortgage lands conveyed before or after the Act of 1870, to her sole and separate use. Witte v. Wolf, 16 S. C. 256; Gleaton v. Gibson, 29 S. C. 514, 7 S. E. 833; Chambers v. Bookman, 32 S. C. 455, 11 S. E. 349. She could bind herself by acceptance of a draft. Long v. Schmidt, 18 S. C. 604. A judgment confessed by a married woman in 1867, having been renewed in 1876 and 1883, is valid. Crenshaw v. Julian, 26 S. C. 283, 2 S. E. 133. Subsequently to the Act of 1882, and prior to the Act of 1887, a married woman could only make such contracts as actually relate to her separate property, and cannot otherwise bind herself. Habenicht v. Rawls, 24 S. C. 461; Aultman v. Rush, 26 S. C. 517, 2 S. E. 402; Brown v. Thomson, 27 S. C. 500, 4 S. E. 345; Gwynn v. Gwynn, 27 S. C. 525, 4 S. E. 229; Brown v. Prevost, 28 S. C. 123, 5 S. E. 274; Aultman v. Gibert, 28 S. C. 303, 5 S. E. 806; Booker v. Wingo, 39 S. C. 116, 7 S. E. 49; Livingston v. Shingler, 30 S. C. 159, 9 S. E. 842; Taylor v. Barker, 30 S. C. 238, 9 S. E. 115; McCord v. Blackwell, 31 S. C. 125, 9 S. E. 777; Erwin v. Lowry, 31 S. C. 330, 9 S. E. 961; Harris v. McCaslan, 31 S. C. 420, 10 S. E. 104; Gwynn v. Gwynn, 31 S. C. 482, 10 S. But she is still liable on contract made for benefit of her separate estate, and can subject such estate to liability for its performance. Brown v. Thomson, 27 S. C. 500, 4 S. E. 345; Dial v. Agnew, 28 S. C. 454, 6 S. E. 295; Fant v. Brown, 29 S. C. 598, 6 S. E. 937; Tribble v. Poore, 30 S. C. 97, 8 S. E. 541; McCord v. Blackwell, 31 S. C. 125, 9 S. E. 777; Kincaid v. Smith, 28 S. C. 426, 7 S. E. 610; Brown v. Thomson, 31 S. C. 436, 10 S. E. 95; Scottish Co. v. Deas, 35 S. C. 42, 14 S. E. 486. A mere declaration of intention to bind her separate estate was not sufficient. Hibernia Institution v. Luhn, 34 S. C. 175, 13 S. E. 357. But it is not necessary for party enforcing contract to show that it was so made. Taylor v. Barker, 30 S. C. 238, 9 S. E. 115; Brown v. Thomson, 31 S. C. 436, 10 S. E. 95; Chambers v. Bookman, 32 S. C. 455, 11 S. E. 349; Hibernia Institution v. Luhn, 34 S. C. 175, 13 S. E. 357; Griffin v. Earle, 34 S. C. 246, 13 S. E. 473. Yet proof of her representation to that effect is sufficient prior to Act of 1887. Brown v. Thomson, 31 S. C. 436, 10 S. E. 95; Wallace v. Carter, 32 S. C. 314, 11 S. E. 97; *Chambers v. Unless other party knew the truth, and was not misled by her representation, then she is not estopped thereby. Gwynn v. Gwynn, 31 S. C. 482, 10 S. E. 221; Schmidt v. Dean, 31 S. C. 498, 10 S. E. 228, 1104; Goodjohn v. Vaughn, 32 S. C. 499, 11 S. E. 351; Kincaid v. Anderson, 33 S. C. 260, 11 S. E. 766; Carrigan v. Drake, 36 S. C. 354, 15 S. E. 339. But she is estopped when the representation is made in her negotiable note, and she is sued by a bona fide endorsee thereof. Nott v. Thomson, 35 S. C. 461, 14 S. E. 940. It is not necessary that contract did prove to benefit her separate estate. Howard v. Kitchens, 31 S. C. 490, 10 S. E. 224. Where a married woman borrows money for her own use, it is a contract as to her separate estate and enforceable against it. Greig v. Smith, 29 S. C. 426, 7 S. E. 610; Brown v. Thomson, 31 S. She cannot make a contract of partnership. Gwynn v. Gwynn, 27 S. C. 525, 4 S. E. 229; Hogan v. Hoover, 33 S. C. 219, 11 S. E. 725. And her separate estate not liable for contracts of pretended partnership with her. Id.; Weisiger v. Wood, 36 S. C. 424, 15 S. E. 597. Is not bound by mortgage given to secure debt of another. Sibley v. Parks, 23 S. C. 607, 5 S. E. 809; Bates v. American Mortgage Co., 37 S. C. 88, 16 S. E. 883. Residing with her husband on the land recovered, she is not liable for damages and costs. Shuford v. Shingler, 30 S. C. 612, 8 S. E. 799. After judgment it is too late to claim that mortgage was void because made by a married woman. Jennings v. Harrison, 33 S. C. 206, 11 S. E. 695. Agency of husband for wife. Walker v. Walker, 17 S. C. 329. Estoppel by conduct, to assert title: renouncing dower on conveyance by husband. Campbell v. Sloan, 21 S. C. 301. The Act of 1891 not retrospective. Collins v. Hall, 55 S. C. 336, 33 S. E. 466.

Constitutionality of Gen. Stat. 1882, § 2037. American Mortg. Co. v. Woodward, 33 S. C. 521, 65 S. E. 739.

Under Gen. Stat. 1882, § 2037, married woman could not pledge her estate by mortgage, for purpose of securing contract of another, which has no reference to her separate property, even though that other be her husband. American Mortg. Co. v. Owens, 72 Fed. 219, 221.

It seems that a grant to husband and wife in absence of any expressed intention in deed conveying whole to survivor makes the wife tenant in common with her husband. Green v. Cannady, 77 S. C. 193, 200, 57 S. E. 832.

Married woman is liable under Act of 1891, 20 Stat. 1121, on note and mortgage executed by her for money borrowed by her and delivered to her husband and used by him in paying his debt; also on her notes and mortgage given by her in part payment of debt due by her husband and for which husband received credit on his debt. McGee v. Cunningham, 69 S. C. 470, 48 S. E. 473.

Where married woman acquired real property in 1881, under Act of 1870, proceeds of a mortgage executed by her thereon is her separate property, and she had right to use it in paying an unsecured debt of her husband for supplies used in farming lands. American Mortg. Co. v. Woodward, 33 S. C. 521, 65 S. E. 739.

(5541) § 5. Requisites of Marriage Contracts, Deeds and Settlements.

—All marriage contracts, deeds and settlements shall therein describe, specify and particularize the real and personal estate thereby intended to be included, comprehended, conveyed and passed, or shall have a schedule thereto annexed, containing a description and the particulars and articles of the real and personal estate intended to be conveyed and passed by such marriage contracts, deeds and settlements; which said schedule shall be thereto annexed, and signed, executed and delivered by the parties therein interested, at the time of the signing, executing and delivering the said marriage contracts, deeds and settlements, and be subscribed by the same witness who subscribed the said marriage contracts, deeds or settlements, and shall be recorded therewith; otherwise, and in default of such schedule and recording thereof as aforesaid, the said marriage contracts, deeds and settlements shall be deemed and declared to be fraudulent, null and void with respect to and against creditors and bona fide purchasers or mortgagees.

ARTICLE 3. Testamentary Guardians, 1694.

ARTICLE 4. Miscellaneous Provisions Relating to Minors, 1695.

ARTICLE I.

Guardians in General.

(5543) § 1. Bond of Guardians—Extent of Penalty—Relief of Sureties.—The Judge of Probate, on appointing a guardian to any estate, shall require him to enter into bond to himself and his successors in a penalty of double the amount of such estate, and shall have the same power, as to relieving the sureties of a guardian, which is given to him in the case of relieving the sureties of an administrator.

Civ. '12, § 3764; Civ. '02, § 2671; G. S. 2040; R. S. 2170; 1839, XI, 68.

Liability of sureties is to extent of penalty and not merely to value of property stated in petition. Johnson v. Johnson, 2 Hill Ch. 277. And is not limited to property owned by ward when the trust is assumed, but to all property subsequently accruing. Gray v. Brown, 1 Rich. 351. Where in relieving sureties the guardianship is not revoked, but new bond is required, the old sureties are released from future default. Field v. Pelot, McM. Eq. 369. But remains liable for all property then in the hands of the guardian. Hall v. Hall, 45 S. C. 166, 22 S. E. 818.

Refers to guardians of estates not of persons. Ex parte Davidge, 72 S. C. 16, 51 S. E. 269.

(5544) § 2. Rendition of Annual Accounts—Penalty.—All guardians of estates appointed by the Judge of Probate shall render to him an annual account of their actings and doings, as executors or administrators are required by law to do, and upon making default shall forfeit their commissions.

(5596) § 2. Payment by Surety Not to Discharge Judgment Against Principal.—The payment by a surety of a debt secured by judgment or decree shall not operate as a satisfaction of such judgment or decree against the principal debtor, but by such payment the said surety shall be entitled to all the rights and privileges of the plaintiff in such judgment or decree.

A member of a partnership cannot thus compound for a partnership debt until the partnership has been dissolved by mutual consent or otherwise. In that case the instrument must release or exonerate him from all liability incurred by reason of his connection with the partnership. When a judgment is satisfied thereby a special entry must be made upon the judgment roll to the effect that the judgment is satisfied as to the compounding debtor only.

Civ. '12, § 3945; Civ. '02, § 2842; R. S. 2312; 1883, XVIII, 431.

(5600) § 6. Rights of Joint Debtor Who Has Not Compounded.—When a joint debtor has thus compounded, a joint debtor who has not compounded may make any defense or counterclaim or have any other relief as against the creditor to which he would have been entitled if the composition had not been made. He may require the compounding debtor to contribute his ratable proportion of the joint debt or of the partnership debts, as the case may be, as if the latter had not been discharged. And the debtor who has not compounded with his creditor may set up by way of discount against such creditor the amount compounded by his joint debtor.

Civ. '12, § 4113; Civ. '02, § 3008; G. S. 2350; R. S. 2456; 1816, VI, 32; 1869, XIV, 220.

This Section does not give a lien to sub-contractors. Kelly v. Bank, McM. Eq. 431; Murray v. Earle, 13 S. C. 87; Gray v. Walker, 16 S. C. 143; Geddes v. Bowden, 19 S. C. 1. A contract with one who then owned all the stock of an incorporated bridge company for repairs of the bridge gives such lien on it. Watson v. Columbia Bridge Co., 13 S. C. 433. Consent here means an agreement of legal force. Gray v. Walker, 16 S. C. 143; Geddes v. Bowden, 19 S. C. 1. Mere knowledge by the agent of the owner of such labor does not amount to such consent. Gray v. Walker, 16 S. C. 143. Such lien upon a building and upon "the interest of the owner thereof in the lot of land upon which the same is situated" includes several adjoining lots, enclosed by a common fence and used for the same purpose. Ex parte Davis, 9 S. C. 204. Such lien may be waived by mechanic. Murray v. Earle, 13 S. C. 87.

Accepting benefits of contract with knowledge shows consent thereto. Builders' Supply Co. v. North Augusta Elect. & Imp. Co., 71 S. C. 361, 51 S. E. 231. No counterclaim, only set off, can be interposed to proceedings to enforce lien. Tenny v. Power Co., 67 S. C. 11, 45 S. E. 111; Gwynn v. Citizens' Tel. Co., 69 S. C. 434, 48 S. E. 460, 104 Am. St. Rep. 819, 67 L. R. A. 111.

Unliquidated damages for failure to complete the work in proper time may set up as a defense to action. Spears v. DuRant, 76 S. C. 19, 56 S. E. 652; Tenny v. Power Co., 69 S. C. 430, 48 S. E. 457. Definition of "owner." Metz v. Critcher, 83 S. C. 396, 65 S. E. 394. "Consent" defined. Metz v. Critcher, 86 S. C. 348, 68 S. E. 627.

(5675) § 37. Lien May Be Enforced Against Heirs, Executors or Administrators.—If the person indebted dies or conveys away his estate or interest before the commencement of a suit on the contract, the suit may be commenced and prosecuted against his heirs or whoever holds the estate or interest which he had in the premises at the time the labor or materials were performed or furnished; or, if a suit is commenced in his lifetime, it may be prosecuted against his executors, administrators, heirs, or assigns, in like manner as if the estate or interest had been mortgaged to secure the debt.

Suits Begun by One Creditor May Be Prosecuted by Another.—If it appears, in any stage of the proceedings, that the suit was commenced by the petitioning creditor before his right of action accrued, or after it was barred, or if he become nonsuit, or fail to establish his claims, suit may be prosecuted by any other creditor having such lien, in the same manner as if it had been originally commenced by him, if the circumstances of the case are such that he might then, or at any time after the commencement of the original suit, have commenced a like suit on his own claim.

Suit Begun Before Right of Action Accrues, Another Creditor May Prosecute—Costs.—If the suit is commenced by the petitioning creditor before his right of action accrues, his claim may nevertheless be allowed, if the suit is carried on by any other creditor, as provided in the preceding Section; but he shall not, in such case, be entitled to costs; and he may be required to pay the costs incurred by the debtor, or such part thereof as the Court may deem reasonable.

Contractors to Pay All Laborers Employed—Lien of Laborers.—It shall be the duty of any contractor or contractors in the erection, alteration or repairing of buildings in the State of South Carolina to pay all laborers, subcontractors and material men for their lawful services and material furnished out of the money received for the erection, alterations or repairs of buildings upon which said laborers, subcontractors and material men are employed or interested, and said laborers, as well as all subcontractors and persons who shall furnish material for said building, shall have a first lien on the money received by said contractor or contractors for the erection, alteration or repair of said buildings in proportion to the amount of their respective claims. Nothing herein contained shall make the owner of the building responsible in any way: Provided, further, That nothing contained in this Section shall be construed to prevent any contractor or contractors or subcontractors from borrowing money on such contract.

ARTICLE III.

Liens on Ships and Vessels for Labor and Materials.

(5683) § 1. Liens on Ships and Vessels for Labor Performed and Materials Furnished.—When by virtue of a contract, expressed or implied, with the owners of a ship or vessel, or with the agents, contractors, or subcontractors of such owners, or any of them, or with any person having been employed to construct, repair, or launch such ship or vessel, or to assist them, money is due to any person for labor performed, materials used, or labor and materials furnished in the construction, launching, repairs of, or for constructing the launchingways for, or for provisions, stores, or other articles furnished for or on account of such ship or vessel in this State, such person shall have a lien upon the ship or vessel, her tackle and furniture, to secure the payment of such debt; which lien shall be preferred to all others thereon, except mariners' wages, and shall continue until the debt is satisfied.

Different liens hereunder have equal rank and are not affected by the order in which suits were brought. The Julia, 57 Fed. 233, 235.

(5684) § 2. Requisites to Retain Lien—To Be Recorded—Fee.—Such lien shall be dissolved unless the person claiming the same shall file, within ninety days after he ceases to labor on or furnish labor or materials for such ship or vessel, in the office of the Register of Mesne Conveyance or Clerk of Court of the county within which the ship or vessel was at the time the debt was contracted, a statement, subscribed and sworn to by himself or by some person in his behalf, giving a just and true account of the demands claimed to be due to him, with all just credits; and also the name of the person with whom the contract was made, the name of the owner of the ship or vessel, if known, and the name of the ship or vessel, or a description thereof, sufficient for identification; which statement shall be recorded by said Register of Mesne Conveyance, or Clerk, in a book kept by him for that purpose; for which he shall receive the same fees as for recording other papers of equal length.

Civ. '12, § 4154; Civ. '02, § 3049; G. S. 2390; R. S. 2505; 1869, XIV, 224; 1884, XVIII, 735.

(5685) § 3. Ship Built in Two Places, Etc.—Accuracy of Description.—If the ship or vessel is partly constructed in one place and partly in another, either place shall be deemed the port at which she was when the debt was contracted, within the meaning of this Chapter; and no inaccuracy in the description of the ship or vessel, if she can be recognized thereby, or in stating the amount due for labor or materials, shall invalidate the proceedings, unless it appears that the person filing the certificate has knowingly and wilfully claimed more than his due.

(5686) § 4. Lien—How Enforced—Filing of Petition, Etc.—Such lien may be enforced by petition to the Court of Common Pleas for the county where the vessel was at the time the debt was contracted, or in which she is at the time of instituting proceedings. The petition may be entered in Court or filed in the Clerk's office in vacation, or may be served with the summons, with an order of attachment, and returned, and entered, as other civil actions, and the subsequent proceedings for enforcing the lien shall, except as hereinafter provided, be as prescribed for enforcing liens on buildings and lands, so far as the same are applicable. At the time of entering or filing the petition, a process of attachment against such ship or vessel, her tackle, apparel and furniture, shall issue and continue in force, or may be dissolved like attachments in civil cases, but such dissolution shall not dissolve the lien.

It seems that when Court has taken possession of vessel after advertisement, further advertisement is unnecessary in case of libels filed after arrest. The Julia, 57 Fed. 233, 236.

(5687) § 5. Petition to Contain What.—The petition shall contain a brief statement of the labor, materials, or work done or furnished, or the stores, provisions, or other articles furnished, and the amount due therefor, with a description of the ship or vessel subject to the lien, and all other material facts and circumstances, and shall pray that the ship or vessel may be sold and the proceeds of the sale applied to the discharge of the demand.

(5688) § 6. Amendments of Pleadings.—The Court may at any time allow either party to amend his pleadings, as in other civil actions.

(5689) § 7. Several Claimants May Join in Same Petition.—Any number of persons having such liens upon the same ship or vessel may join in the same petition to enforce the same; and the same proceedings shall be had in regard to the respective rights of each petitioner, and the respondent may defend as to each petitioner, in the same manner as if they had severally petitioned for their individual liens.

(5690) § 8. Claims Marshalled and Proceeds Distributed—If Proceeds Be Insufficient, Liens Satisfied Ratably.—When there is money due to more than one person holding a lien upon a ship or vessel under the provisions of this Article, all parties interested having been cited to appear and answer, the claims of all shall be marshalled, and the Court shall make such order or decree as may be necessary to prevent the enforcement of a double lien for the same labor, materials, stores, provisions, or other articles, and to secure the just rights of all. And the proceeds arising from the sale of such ship or vessel, after deducting all proper costs and expenses, shall be distributed among the several claimants, to the amount of their respective debts: Provided, That when such proceeds are insufficient to satisfy the liens of all those having liens for labor, they shall receive a percentage on their respective claims one-third greater, as near as may be, than those having liens for materials, stores, or other articles.

It seems that contractor furnishing labor and materials is not entitled to increase percentage for sums paid for labor in putting in materials. The Julia, 57 Fed. 233, 236.

ARTICLE IV.

Liens on Railroads for Work or Material.

(5691) § 1. Persons to Have Liens on Railroads for Work or Materials.—Any person to whom a debt is due for labor performed or furnished, or for materials furnished and actually used in the construction, alteration or repair of any railroad by virtue of an agreement with or by consent of the owner or corporation or person controlling and operating the same or any person having authority from or rightfully acting for such owner, corporation or person in procuring or furnishing such labor or materials, or any person rendering services for such railroad company, shall have a lien upon such railroad and upon all the interests of such owner, corporation or person as aforesaid in said railroad, to secure the payment of the debt so due him and the costs which may arise in enforcing such lien under the provisions of Article II of this Chapter.

LIENS SUBJECT TO ARTICLE II, CHAPTER XC.—Said lien shall be subject to all the provisions and be enforced in the same manner as provided for in Article II of this Chapter, relating to liens on lands or buildings for the labor and materials.

ARTICLE V.

Agricultural Liens.

(5692) § 1. Lien of Landlord for Rent and Advances on Crops Raised on Leased Premises.—Every landlord leasing land for agricultural purposes shall have a prior and preferred lien for his rent to the extent of all crops raised on the lands leased by him, whether the same be raised by the tenant or other person. No writing or recording shall be necessary to create such lien, but it shall exist from the date of the contract, whether the same be in writing or verbal, and the landlord and his assigns shall have the right to enforce such lien in the same manner, upon the same conditions, and subject to the same restrictions, as are provided in this Article for persons making advances for agricultural purposes. And subject to the liens hereinafter provided for and enforceable in the same way, the landlord and his assigns shall have a lien on all the crops raised by the tenant for all advances made by the landlord to such tenant during the year.

Civ. '12, § 4162; Civ. '02, § 3057; G. S. 2399; R. S. 2512; 1878, XVI, 411, 743; 1880, XVII, 413; 1884, XVIII, 752; 1885, XIX, 146; 1906, XXV, 83.

The contract carries with it a lien without an express agreement for it. Carter v. DuPre, 18 S. C. 179. The lien is not defeated by taking a writing under seal for the rent. Sullivan v. Ellison, 20 S. C. 481. Rent payable in cotton is secured by such lien. State v. Reeder, 36 S. C. 497, 15 S. E. 544. It seems that such rent, although payable monthly, has such preferred lien over liens given for supplies. Brewster v. McNab, 36 S. C. 274, 15 S. E. 233. Magistrate has jurisdiction where amount claimed does not exceed $100. Southern Ry. Co. v. Sarratt, 58 S. C. 98, 36 S. E. 505.

(5693) § 2. Laborer's Lien on Crops—Grade—How Enforced.—Laborers who assist in making any crop on shares, or for wages in money or other valuable consideration, shall have a lien thereon to the extent of the amount due them for such labor, next in priority to the lien of the landlord for rent; and as between such laborers there shall be no preference. Such portion of the crop to them belonging, or such amount of money or other valuable consideration as may be due them, shall be recoverable by an action in any Court of competent jurisdiction.

Hamilton v. Blanton, 107 S. C. 142, 92 S. E. 275.

(5694) § 3. Rank of Liens for Rent, for Labor, and for Supplies.—The landlord shall have a lien upon the crops of his tenant for his rent in preference to all other liens. Laborers who assist in making any crop shall have a lien thereon to the extent of the amount due them for such labor, next in priority to the landlord, and as between such laborers there shall be no preference. All other liens for agricultural supplies shall be paid next after the satisfaction of the liens of the landlord and laborers, and shall rank in other respects as they do now under existing laws.

Civ. '12, § 4164; Civ. '02, § 3060; R. S. 2515; 1885, XIX, 146.

If senior lienor by agreement permit a third person to take and apply to an unsecured claim enough of the crops to pay his own debt without notice to junior lienor he cannot afterwards maintain an action against the junior lienor for the crops seized by him and applied to his lien debt. Hankinson v. Hankinson, 61 S. C. 193, 39 S. E. 385. Before the Act of 1885, this preference of landlord's lien for rent without recorded agreement only extended to one-third of the crop. Kennedy v. Reames, 15 S. C. 548; Whaley v. Jacobson, 21 S. C. 51.

State v. Lanier, 79 S. C. 103, 60 S. E. 225.

(5695) § 4. Indexing Liens for Advances in Office of Register of Mesne Conveyances.—Every lien for advances shall be indexed in the office of the Register of Mesne Conveyances, or Clerk of the Court (where the office of Register of Mesne Conveyance does not exist), of the county in which the lienor resides within thirty days from the date of the lien, and the indexing of the said lien shall constitute notice thereof to all third persons and entitle the same to the benefit of this Article. Said index shall show the names of the lienor and lienee, the date and amount of lien, and a brief description of the place so cultivated; and said indexing shall be a sufficient record of the same, and the property covered by such lien, so indexed as aforesaid, if found in the hands of subsequent purchasers or creditors, shall be deemed liable to said lien. The Clerk of Court or Register of Mesne Conveyances, as the case may be, shall endorse his official certificate upon every lien on a crop or crops filed in his office under the provisions of this Article, and his only fee for filing, indexing and certifying the same shall be fifteen cents for each lien so filed, indexed and endorsed.

Civ. '12, § 4165; Civ. '02, § 3061; G. S. 2339; R. S. 2516; 1878, XVI, 411; 1880, XVIII, 413; 1884, XVIII, 896.

State v. Lanier, 79 S. C. 103, 106, 60 S. E. 225.

Under the Act of 1878, before its amendment, the lien had to be kept on file in Clerk's office as well as indexed. Sternberger v. McSween, 14 S. C. 35. If not indexed the lien is good between the parties and enforceable by warrant. Lyons v. Tedder, 7 S. C. 60. But an unrecorded lien of landlord for advances cannot avail against a merchant's recorded lien for advances. Whaley v. Jacobson, 21 S. C. 51.

Party taking proceeds of property on which lien exists becomes liable for money had and received. Link v. Barksdale, 70 S. C. 487, 50 S. E. 189; Parks v. Laurens Cotton Mills, 70 S. C. 274, 49 S. E. 871.

Cantey v. McClary-Broadway Co., 95 S. C. 29, 78 S. E. 614.

(5696) § 5. Clerk May Arrest Unlawful Sale of Crop.—If any person making such advances shall prove, by affidavit, to the satisfaction of the Clerk of the Court of the county in which such crop is, that the person to whom such advances have been made is about to sell or dispose of his crop, or in any other way is about to defeat the lien hereinbefore provided for, accompanied with a statement of the amount then due, it shall be lawful for him to issue his warrant, directed to any of the Sheriffs of this State, requiring them to seize the said crop, and, after due notice, sell the same for cash, and pay over the net proceeds thereof, or so much thereof as may be necessary, in extinguishment of the amount then due: Provided, however, That if the person to whom such advances have been made, shall within thirty days after such sale has been made, give notice in writing to the Sheriff, accompanied with an affidavit to this effect, that the amount claimed is not justly due, then it shall be the duty of the said Sheriff to hold the proceeds of such sale subject to the decision of the Court upon an issue which shall be made up and set down for trial at the next succeeding term of the Court of Common Pleas for the county in which the person to whom such advances have been made resides, in which the person who makes such advances shall be the actor.

The affidavit is fatally defective unless it state the facts required to obtain the warrant. Segler v. Coward, 24 S. C. 119. The warrant can be issued only by the Clerk, and served only by the sheriff. Jones v. Clarkson, 16 S. C. 628. It cannot issue on liens for advances unless the agreement for a lien was in writing and signed by the party charged. Carpenter v. Strickland, 20 S. C. 1. Sheriff cannot, under such warrant, take the crops already distrained and taken into possession by the landlord for rent without payment of the rent. Brewster v. McNab, 36 S. C. 274, 15 S. E. 233. The only issue to be determined under notice to the Sheriff is, whether the amount claimed is justly due. Johnston v. Manigault, 13 S. C. 403. If affidavit deny any indebtedness under the lien, that is sufficient. Warren v. Lawton, 14 S. C. 476. Such notice and affidavit, when filed with the Clerk, raise the issue sufficiently for trial, and no order of Court is necessary to frame such issue. Johnston v. Manigault, 13 S. C. 408; Warren v. Lawton, 14 S. C. 476. The lienor is the actor in the Court contesting the claim of lienee. Virginia-Carolina Chemical Co. v. Kirven, 57 S. C. 445, 85 S. Coward, 24 S. C. 119. Lienor entitled to costs as witness on trial of such issue. Winsmith v. Dewberry, 14 S. C. 554. Appeal lies from judgment in this proceeding. Johnston v. Manigault, 13 S. (5697) § 6. Proceedings in Magistrate's Court for Foreclosure of Liens—Issue, Etc.—Costs.—When any person shall have made advances for agricultural purposes and shall have secured lien upon the crop or crops of the person to whom such advances may be made, according to the provisions of law relating to agricultural liens, and the amount of such advances do not exceed one hundred dollars, it shall be lawful for any Magistrate of the county in which such lien is indexed, upon the production of said lien and the proof required in cases where Clerks of the Court may issue warrants, to issue his warrant directed to a Constable or Sheriff of the county, requiring him to seize said crop or crops, and after due notice sell poses, shall have a lien in preference to all other liens, existing or otherwise same for cash and apply the net proceeds thereof, or so much thereof as may be necessary, in extinguishment of said lien: Provided, That if the person to whom such advances have been made shall give notice in writing within ten days after such seizure, accompanied with an affidavit to the effect that the amount claimed is not justly due, then the Magistrate issuing the warrant shall, at the expiration of twenty days, decide an issue which shall be made up, in which the person who may have made such advances shall be the actor. This Section shall not be construed to prevent Clerks of the Court from issuing warrants to enforce agricultural liens in all cases as in this Article provided. The costs and fees of Magistrates for enforcement of agricultural liens shall be the same as for Clerks of Court in similar cases; and Constables in Magistrates' Courts shall be allowed in such cases the same fees and costs allowed in like cases to Sheriffs.

(5698) § 7. Requisites of Affidavits—Motion to Vacate Warrant—Bond of Applicant, Etc.—The affidavit and statements to be used to obtain any warrant of seizure provided for in this Article shall conform, as nearly as may be, to the practice regulating the issuing of warrants of attachment under the Code of Procedure; and the persons against whom it is issued shall have the right to move before the Clerk of the Court or Magistrate by whom it is issued, or a Circuit Judge, to vacate said warrant of seizure for any of the causes which would be sufficient to vacate a warrant of attachment issued under the Code of Procedure.

Before issuing such warrant, the officer to whom application therefor is made shall require the party applying to enter into an undertaking, with sufficient surety, to the effect that he will pay to the party whose crops are to be attached or seized such costs as may be awarded to him should said warrant be set aside, and all damages that he may sustain in consequence of the issuing of such warrant, if it should be decided by any Court of competent jurisdiction that the same had been illegally or improvidently issued not exceeding the sum specified in the undertaking which shall be at least two hundred and fifty dollars, except in case of a warrant issued by a Magistrate, when it shall be at least twenty-five dollars.

In actions for the benefit of persons unable to contract, or by one of a class for the benefit of all, the costs and disbursements should be appointed and paid out of the fund in Court. *Nimmons v. The Railroad Commission may, upon its own motion, institute an inquiry into any subject matter within its jurisdiction in like manner as though a petition or complaint had been filed. Upon determining to institute such an inquiry, the Commission shall enter an order to show cause, directing the person or corporation whose affairs are the subject matter of the investigation to appear in person, or by counsel, and show cause, the Commission shall proceed with the inquiry in like manner as though a petition or complaint had been filed as aforesaid. (c) The said Commission may, at any time, upon notice and opportunity to the public utility affected, rescind, alter or amend any order or decision made by it. (d) Within twenty (20) days after an order or decision has been made by the Railroad Commission, any party to the action or proceeding may apply for a rehearing in respect to any matters determined in said action or proceeding, and specified in the application for rehearing on said matter, and a rehearing shall be granted if in the judgment of the Railroad Commission sufficient reason therefor be made to appear. No cause of action arising out of any order or decision of the Commission shall accrue in any Court to any corporation or person unless such corporation or person shall have made application to the Commission for a rehearing within the time herein specified. Such application shall set forth specifically the ground or grounds on which the applicant considers such decision or order to be unlawful. Such determination shall be made by the Commission within thirty (30) days after the same shall be finally submitted. If, after such hearing, and a consideration of all the facts, including those arising since the making of the order or decision, the Commission shall be of the opinion that the original order or decision, or any part thereof, is in any respect unjust or unwarranted, or should be changed, the Commission may abrogate, change or modify the same, and if changed or modified, such modified order shall be substituted in the place of the order originally entered, with like force and effect. (e) Decisions of the Commission may be reviewed by the Court of Common Pleas upon questions of both law and fact, as hereinafter provided. Within thirty (30) days after the application for a rehearing is denied, or if the application is granted, then within thirty (30) days after the rendition of the decision on rehearing the applicant may commence an action in the Court of Common Pleas for Richland County against the Commission as defendant, to vacate or set aside any such order of the Commission, or enjoin the enforcement thereof, on the ground that the authorization, consent, rate or rates, charges, fares, tolls, and schedules fixed in such order are insufficient, unreasonable, unjust or unlawful, or that any such regulation, practice, act or service fixed in such manner is unreasonable, unjust, insufficient or unlawful, in which action a copy of the complaint shall be served with the summons, and no order of determination of the Commission reducing any rate, fare, charge, or toll shall be in force during the pendency of such action, if the utility or utilities affected shall execute and file with the Clerk of Court a bond undertaking in such sum as the Court shall prescribe, and to be approved by the Court, conditioned to secure the refund to customers of any sums that may be collected in excess of the rates, fares, charges or tolls that shall be finally adjudged to be lawful and valid. (f) Any party to such action in the Court of Common Pleas shall have the right to appeal to the Supreme Court in accordance with existing law and procedure in such cases. (g) The Railroad Commission shall cause a record to be kept of all proceedings had before it on any formal investigation, and all testimony shall be taken down by a competent stenographer, designated by the Commission, and a copy or transcript thereof, verified by the oath of such stenographer, shall be furnished on terms fixed by the Commission to parties desiring the same, and shall be received in evidence with the same effect as if such stenographer were present and testified thereto. (h) In case of any action to review any order or decision of the Commission, a transcript of the testimony taken, together with all exhibits, or copies thereof introduced, and of the pleadings, records, proceedings and orders (which shall be accompanied by any opinion or memorandum of the Commission concerning the same) in the case, shall constitute the record of the Commission on the review: Provided, That on review of an order, or decision of the Commission, the parties interested in the result, and the Commission may stipulate that a certain question or questions alone, and specified portion only of the evidence shall be certified to the Court for its judgment, whereupon such stipulation and the question or questions, and the evidence therein specified shall constitute the record for review. (i) Whenever a public utility desires to put in operation a new rate, toll, rental, charge or classification or a new rule or regulation, it shall file with the Commission a new schedule or schedules embodying the same, not less than thirty (30) days prior to the date it desires to make same effective: Provided, The Commission may, upon application of the public utility, prescribe a less time within which the same may be made effective. In the absence of suspension or disapproval by the Commission as herein provided, the new rate, toll, rental, charge, classification, rule or regulation embodied in any such new schedule shall become effective at the time specified in such schedule, subject, however, to the power of the Commission, at any time thereafter to take any action with respect to the same authorized by this Act. To enable it to take such investigations as in its opinion the public interests require, the Commission may, in its discretion, suspend the operation of the new schedule or schedules for a period not exceeding sixty (60) days, unless as a result of its investigation, the Commission otherwise orders before the termination of such period of sixty (60) days, such new schedule or schedules shall thereupon become effective. Should the Commission order the operation of any new schedule or schedules suspended, as herein provided, the public utility may put such new schedule or schedules into operation on the date when it, or they, would otherwise become effective by filing with the Commission a satisfactory bond, or by making other arrangements satisfactory to the Commission for the protection, during such period of suspension, of the parties interested, should the Commission, after full hearing, determine and order that such schedule or schedules shall not become effective in whole or in part, or without change or modification. Within ten (10) days after the filing of any new or changed schedule by a public utility, the Commission shall give general notice thereof by publication."

§ 2. Powers Devolved Upon Railroad Commission Additional.—The term "Commission" as herein used refers to the Railroad Commission of South Carolina and the duties hereby devolved upon said Commission are in addition to those now imposed by law upon said Railroad Commission.
